Typhoid Scourge Hits Omaha

PHONE GIRLS SAVE CITY BY NIGHT VIGIL

Heroines at Switchboard Warn Householders of Germ-Laden Water

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 25.—In a frantic effort to check the spread of the typhoid epidemic that is ravaging Omaha, due to the contamination of the city water supply, telephone girls in every exchange of the city remained on duty during the night, working feverishly to notify the residents of Omaha not to drink the city water for at least ten days.

Connecting as many as six families at a time, the heroines worked like demons to spread the warning issued by the city health department that the water was fairly alive with typhoid germs.

As dawn broke this morning over the Nebraska metropolis, the tired girls dropped over their keys, worn out by excitement and fatigue, but satisfied by knowledge that the lives of thousands of Omaha citizens may be saved by the timely warnings they had flashed from one end of the city to the other.

Face Appalling Epidemic
When City Health Inspector Pinto stated that the water had greatly cleared in color from the thick, muddy consistency that it has shown for the past few days, but that the typhoid menace was still present, the city officials demanded that the telephone company broadcast the warning to the residents of the city, and the girls in the exchanges answered the call to duty with a devotion that has won the praise of the entire country.

Pinto's statement carried the warning: "We are facing the most appalling epidemic of typhoid fever in the country's history."

Ever since the waters of the Omaha city system became contaminated several days ago and the mud gushed from the faucets of the homes and manufacturing plants, frantic efforts have been made to furnish a supply of drinking water to the people of the city, in order to stave off the disease that was so dreaded by the officials.

Extreme Measures Used
Long lines of hose were run from Council Bluffs, Iowa, across the river, and water was kept flowing into Omaha, but in quantities that failed to meet the needs of the citizens.

Barbary Coast Loses Its Union Of Bartenders

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—The Bartenders' Union, pride and glory of a day long passed, has finally faded into oblivion after years of lingering hopes that John Barbarycorn would return and claim his own.

It was a peaceful ending. Word of the passing of the union was given officially by Secretary John A. O'Connell of the local labor council.

He announced that as a result of insufficient membership the bartenders' organization had surrendered its charter and was now a part of "Waiters' Union No. 41." When the Barbary Coast was at its height, the bartenders' union was one of the strongest in the city. It had over 1000 members.

SHRINERS STAGE DANCING PARTY

Members of Club Are Hosts At Entertainment Held In Egyptian Cafe

The Shrine Club of Glendale staged one of its periodical dinner dances last night at the Egyptian Village cafe, taking possession of the entire establishment and putting on a party where, as one member expressed it, "there was no room for a dead one."

The high lights of the affair were the special menu that was provided by the management of the cafe, a program furnished by professional talent of singers and dancers who presented a series of cabaret specialties that livened up the affair every minute the performers were doing their acts, serpentine streamers that decorated every inch of the cafe, and dancing in which every member of the club and the guests participated enthusiastically.

Many of the members brought parties of special guests to the affair, which resembled a big family party in the abandon displayed and in the enjoyment of the occasion.

Air Mail Pilot Wings Way Home, Parent III

BUCHANAN, Mich., Aug. 25.—Flying from Cheyenne, Wyo., 945 miles, mail aviator Jack Knight arrived here at 6 a. m. (Central time) today to go to the bedside of his father, Dr. N. F. Knight, believed dying.

The flight took approximately 10 hours and 15 minutes. The flight was made in a government plane from Cheyenne to Omaha. There he mounted a private plane. Most of the flying was unhampered, but fog was encountered at Clinton, Ia., and at Iowa City. The flight was almost one third of the way across the continent.

60 MILLIONS FOR FARM LOANS

President Coolidge Tackles Agricultural Problems; To Protect Crops

By H. K. REYNOLDS
For International News Service

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—President Coolidge today tackled the agricultural problem in earnest, conferring at the White House with members of the federal farm loan board, the agency charged with providing financial facilities for the farm-to-market crop movement this fall.

Chairman Robert A. Cooper, reported the progress the board had made in establishing the 12 new intermediate credit banks throughout the country and assured the President that there would be no difficulty in carrying out the plans of Congress for an adequate farm credit system.

Reports Few Loans
Chairman Cooper said the intermediate credit banks were functioning well. Total loans have not been great because sufficient time has not elapsed for producers to take advantage of the new federal credit system.

The board plans to increase the reserve of the intermediate banks by at least $60,000,000 by bond distribution. This money will be placed at the command of the farming industry. Members of the board believed that the big wheat surplus would be dissipated when the crop actually began to move to market and that there would be material price adjustment benefitting the farmers.

"Governmental price fixing has never been successful," Chairman Cooper said today.

Opposes Price Fixing
"For the government to fix wheat prices and buy all wheat at that figure, that could not be sold elsewhere, would mean that it also would have to limit the acreage and that would involve a multitude of problems more vexing than which it is now confronted."

Officials of the Department of Agriculture have endorsed the campaign of the American farm bureau federation for a voluntary reduction of winter wheat acreage, this fall.

COAL RATION PLAN BEING PREPARED

Governor of Pennsylvania Calls Conference in Last Effort to Halt Strike

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 25.—Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania today telegraphed to the deadlocked anthracite operators and miners at Atlantic City summoning them into conference here on Monday. This action was the first in the governor's program to bring about a settlement of the differences which threatens to bring about a shut down in the hard coal fields on September 1.

Only the detailed instructions to state leaders to be issued at the conference of governors in New York next Tuesday remain unfinished. With this done, a signal from Washington will speed thousands of tons of substitutes for anthracite consuming states.

War Time Basis
If a strike comes, and officials are still optimistic that this will not happen, the country, especially the New England states, under the program worked out for a substitute distribution, will be placed on virtual war time coal status.

Bituminous shipments will be supervised by R. F. Wadleigh, federal coal distributor, and will be rationed strictly according to the needs of the states and individual communities. Storing or hoarding of coal will not be permitted. The government will endeavor to maintain "reasonable price levels" to stop profiteering.

The federal government will be represented at the Pinchot coal conference in Harrisburg Monday by agents of the United States coal commission, Chairman Hammond announced this afternoon, following a conference with President Coolidge at the White House.

BANKERS FACE CHARGE
PHOENIX, Ariz., Aug. 25.—With the filing of seven new indictments against officials of the closed Farmers' & Merchants' bank of Tempe, near here, they are held today to answer on six charges. One new charge against the cashier, alleges the false entry of $10,000 in his report of the state banking inspector.

Wood and Quezon in Conference at Manila
MANILA, Aug. 25.—The Philippine situation took a new turn today as Governor General Leonard Wood and Manuel Quezon, president of the Philippine Islands, sat down together as members of the board of control of the Philippine National Bank and in a meeting with representatives of American capital and the island sugar interests discussed a proposed $10,000,000 bond issue.

Sugar interests are attempting to float the bond issue in order to secure proper facilities for handling the coming sugar crop.

Up to now the negotiations have not been running very smoothly because the capitalists want control over the sugar plantations, refineries and crops which the planters are willing to put up as security without, however, surrendering their authority over the properties.

Today negotiations stand at a deadlock, but Governor General Wood expressed hopes that a compromise might soon be reached.

TO FILM BURBANK

SANTA ROSA, Aug. 25.—A series of educational motion pictures depicting Luther Burbank, famous plant "wizard," at work with nature in his experimental gardens here, will be taken next month, it became known today.

YOUTH DIES IN DOWNEY AUTO CRASH

ANAHEIM, Aug. 25.—Walter Brown, 22, was killed late last night when the automobile in which he was riding to Long Beach, turned over four times near Downey as Brown, his brother, Jerome, and Clyde Sharp, rounded a curve at high speed. The young man was an oil driller. Jerome Brown was badly injured.

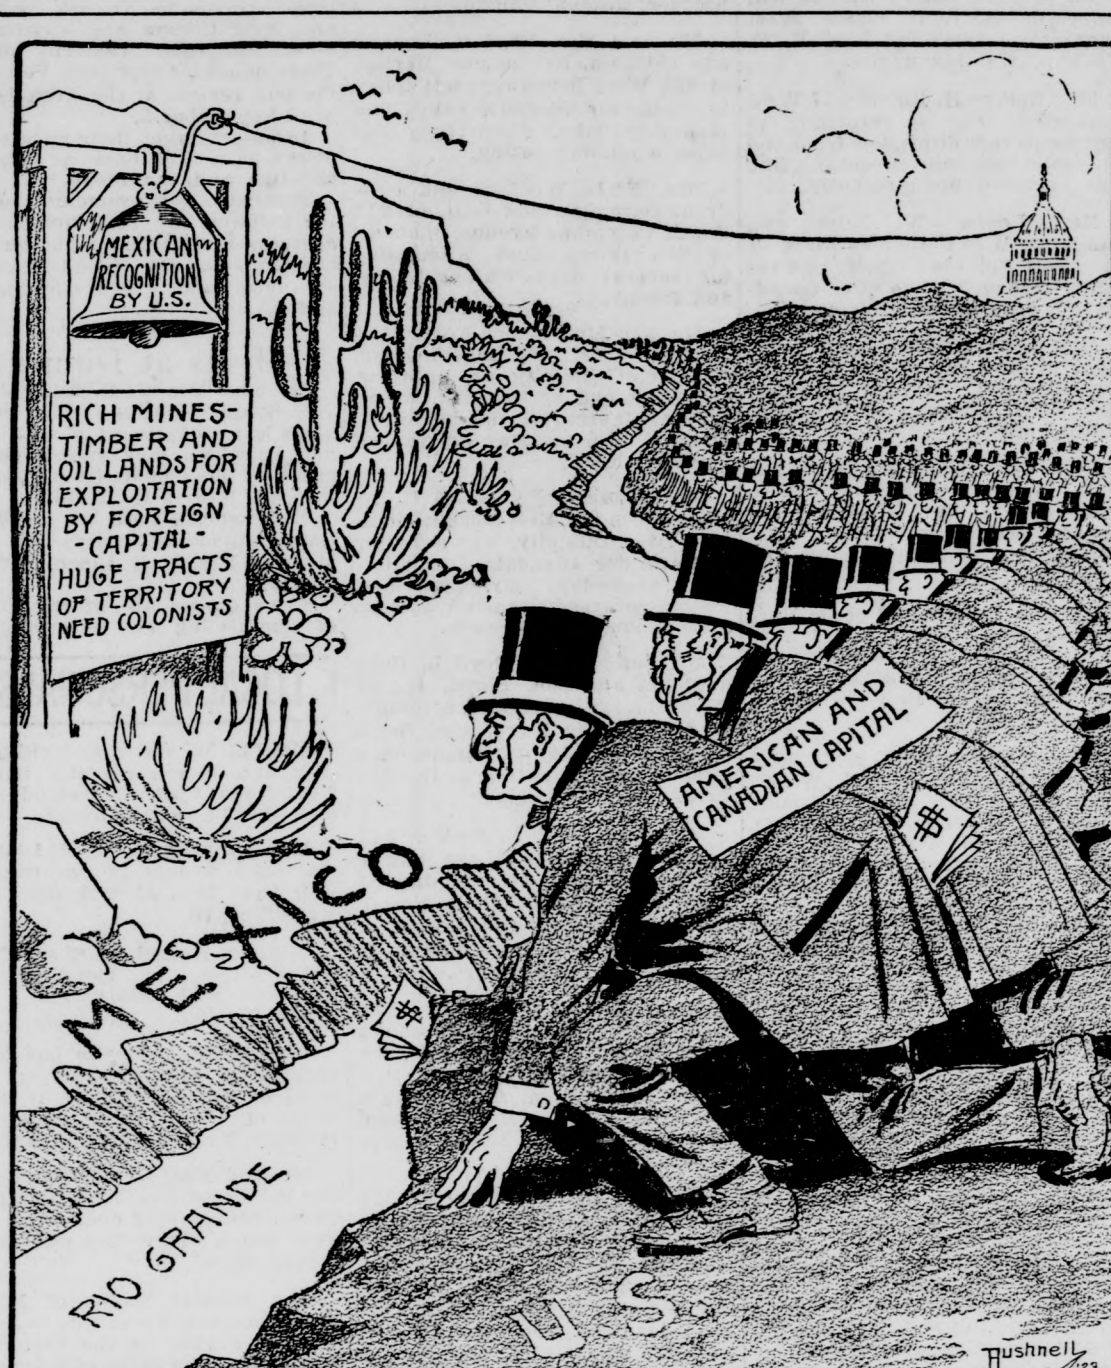

'LIE DETECTOR' MAY SOLVE MURDER

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—The "lie detector," one of Chief of Police Vollmer's scientific inaugurations in police work, may be used to test the story told by Virginia Le Vellie, mystery woman, whose confession to the "butcher knife" murder of Henry Willard Johnson, is doubted, it developed today.

LONDON PLEASED AT GERMANY'S ATTITUDE

LONDON, Aug. 25.—There is a disposition in official circles to regard Chancellor Stresemann's Berlin speech as virtual acceptance of the proposals put forward by England for control of German finances.

WAITING FOR THE SIGNAL BELL

GEORGE L. KAEDING KIWANIAN HEAR LEGION DIRECTOR ABOUT OLD WORLD

Flip of Coin Gives Him Place On Executive Committee To Fill Vacancy

The flip of a coin last night elected George L. Kaeding of 227 North Central avenue to the executive committee of the local post of the American Legion.

To fill the vacancy in this committee caused by the resignation of Colonel James W. Everington, two comrades were nominated at last night's meeting: Mr. Kaeding and Capt. James H. Whitmeyer of 437 West Broadway. Votes were tied before Lester Marston of 103 West Broadway was given an opportunity to cast his ballot.

"Heads it's Kaeding and tails it's 'Whity'!" he exclaimed, flipping a coin. It came down heads.

Commander Chalmers D. Day of 521 East Elk street appointed an activities committee.

GEORGE L. KAEDING KIWANIAN HEAR ABOUT OLD WORLD

'Crossroads Observations in Europe' Topic of Club's Special Guest

"Crossroads Observations in Europe," as presented by Rev. Benjamin S. Haywood, pastor of the Wilshire M. E. church, to the Glendale Kiwanis club yesterday at their noon luncheon, proved to be a very broad subject brimful of interest.

Twenty-one European, Asiatic and African countries were recently visited by Rev. Haywood on a world tour in which he sought to obtain first-hand knowledge of world conditions existing at the close and following the war.

Approximately 27,000 miles of the earth's surface was traversed, and practically every European nation, with the exception of Russia, were extensively covered.

Loves U. S. A. More
Dr. Haywood is thoroughly American, but he came home more impressed than ever before with the greatness of America, and the privilege of being just a plain citizen of the good old U. S. A.

Outstanding features of "Crossroads Observations" were that Europe in no way can begin to compare with America in the matter of railway, telephone and telegraph, hotel, banking or any other kind of service essential to efficient business or comfortable travel.

And that citizens of all European as well as Asiatic and African nations are looking forward and hoping for America to take the initiative in world leadership for world peace and happiness.

Worthy of Ovation
Rev. Haywood is a member of the Los Angeles Kiwanis club and very active in the affairs of that organization. The fact that he had to pass up two wedding ceremonies, in order to be present yesterday with Glendale Kiwanians, is indicative of Dr. Haywood's real Kiwanian spirit.

At the close of his address yesterday he was accorded one of the longest ovations ever given any speaker addressing Glendale Kiwanis club.

Regular routine matters occupied most of the remaining time. Kiwanian Fred Deal gave his report on the recent meet at Santa Barbara. Members were urged to attend the picnic to be given Monday at the Monte Vista park by San Fernando and Van Nuys Kiwanis clubs.

Numbers of reservations were made to attend the party given by the San Diego Kiwanis club on September 9 and 10 to witness the total eclipse of the sun scheduled for that time.

GLENDALE SENDS G. A. R. DELEGATES

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Scudder Are Going to National Camp at Milwaukee

Glendale is to be represented at the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic and members of the Women's Relief Corps, opening September 2, in Milwaukee, Wis., by Mrs. A. W. Scudder of 320 West Harvard street, a member of the N. P. Banks, W. R. C., of Glendale.

Mrs. Scudder will leave August 30 with her husband for the east. Mr. Scudder goes as a delegate from a G. A. R. post in Los Angeles.

Their attendance at the national gathering was announced yesterday at the G. A. R. and W. R. C. meeting at the hall on South Glendale avenue.

As is the usual custom the veterans met in the morning. At noon the Corps served luncheon and after a short informal program early in the afternoon, the Corps held a business meeting.

Rev. C. R. Norton presided over the after-luncheon program and there were short speeches by Comrade Hull and Adjutant C. H. Clark in appreciation of the Corps' efforts to contribute to the happiness of members of the post.

Three-Story Apartment To Cost $30,000

A three-story, 20-family apartment house will be erected at the corner of East Palmer avenue and Mariposa street, by Harlan A. Page, Jr., who has purchased from F. A. Alspach the property at that location, with a frontage of 152 feet on East Palmer and 186 feet on Mariposa street, including an eight-room house and garage on the south fifty feet (Continued on page 3)

Crown Prince Plans Return To Germany, When It Is Safe

WIEN, Holland, Aug. 25.—"One of these days I am going to make formal request of the Holland government to permit me to return to Germany to live as a private citizen upon my estate in Silesia," former German Crown Prince Frederick Wilhelm declared today in an exclusive interview with International News Service. He added emphatically:

"I do not want to return in an illegal manner. When I go back it will be with the full and absolute consent of the German government. However, I would not return for the world want to aggravate a revolution in my sorely beset motherland. I do not want to be the cause of fresh international disorders. I shall await the proper time—until tranquility has been restored."

Kaiser's Position Different
"Would the Kaiser also like to return?" Wilhelm was asked. Wilhelm hesitated, then said: "Really I do not know. Besides his position is different from mine."

Wilhelm was asked if he thought Crown Prince Rupprecht had any chance of becoming king of Bavaria.

The former crown prince replied slowly: "It has been so long since I left Germany that I am unable to answer that question. All I know is that Bavaria has not much the appearance of a republic."

Then he spoke of his fears for Germany's future. "Fortunately," said Wilhelm, "the German people are intelligent enough to understand that international unity is far more important a question than a monarchy or republic. Unless there is a solution of the German economic problem, social and European will collapse. The economic differences between France and England are by no means anything for Germany to rejoice over."

Tells English Story
A prominent Dutchman once asked Lloyd George what he thought of the ex-kaiser. Lloyd George replied, "The ex-kaiser is a perfect gentleman."

"The Hollander asked, 'Why did you cry, 'Hang the Kaiser,' in your election speeches?'" "Oh, that was merely a political slogan," replied Lloyd George.

WEST COAST FILM HOUSE PLANS CALL FOR 2100 CAPACITY

Dr. Russell and W. McMillan Reveal Biggest Lease In City History

A NEW and magnificent theatre is to be built at once on the east side of Brand boulevard, north of Wilson avenue, at a total consideration of $1,250,000, making it the largest deal ever consummated in Glendale, according to Dr. Jessie A. Russell, realtor, 208 South Brand boulevard, one of the principals in the transaction. The other principal is William McMillan, also a local realtor, with offices at 122 West Broadway.

Charles R. Selkirk and Arthur G. Lindley, prominent Los Angeles architects, the latter of whom resides in Glendale, are preparing plans for the building, which will be of great beauty and size.

Plan Huge Capacity

The theatre will contain 2100 seats, according to Dr. Russell. In addition, there will probably be stores on the ground floor and a number of upper floors devoted to offices. The exact height of the building cannot be announced at this time.

Work will start, however, within thirty days, according to Dr. Russell, and it is hoped that the project will be completed by January 1, 1924.

The property on which the building is to be erected has been leased for 99 years from Arthur C. Kase, the owner, at a total rental of $412,800. In this connection it is interesting to note that this property was purchased by Mr. Kase three years ago for $8200.

Leased for Twenty Years
The theatre has been leased for twenty years to the West Coast Theatres, Inc., and C. L. Langley, Inc., of Los Angeles, Dr. Russell states. They will operate it as one of their chain of motion picture showhouses.

This costly building will make the fourth large theatre for Glendale, which is one more indication of the rapidity with which the city is forging into the front rank of southwest municipalities.

Pre-Civil War Days Vividly Recalled by Mrs. Mary Ludlow

ALTHOUGH one year too young to qualify as a member of The Glendale Evening News Sunset Club, Mrs. Mary Hoag Ludlow of Long Beach, who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Godfrey at 325 North Orange street, has passed the four-score milestone by four years.

Only a year ago she had the unique experience motoring to California, a trip that her father took 75 years or more ago in an ox-drawn covered wagon.

"Grandma" was born August 8, 1839 on a farm home on the banks of the Hudson river in New York state. When she was but three years old her father moved his family by boat down the canal to Detroit, Michigan, then by train to Ann Arbor and then by stage to Albion, where the family settled and where "Grandma" lived for eighty years, until she came to California a year ago to her home with her son's family at Long Beach.

It was in Albion that she knew C. S. Godfrey, who was the small girl living next door.

Recalls Events Long Ago
Miss Mary Hoag was "Grandma's" maiden name and it was the year Abraham Lincoln was elected for the first time that she was married to Mr. Ludlow.

An interesting experience of her early life was attending Albion College, when it was a seminary.

"The days when I was a girl were very interesting," says Mrs. Ludlow reminiscing. "We did much spinning and I remember

WEBB'S PREPARING FOR GIGANTIC SALE

Watch for Bargains Advertised in Full Page Monday, Word From Store

Every day holds something new and interesting for Glendale women at the H. S. Webb company store on North Brand boulevard, near Wilson avenue.

Glendale women are becoming fully convinced that this popular shopping center is a place of satisfaction, where quality predominates in all lines.

And now, just when Southern Californians are about to experience a few weeks of final hot summer weather, the Webb company announces a mammoth sale of gingham dresses for Tuesday.

It is safe to say that it will be the biggest, liveliest and most satisfactory sales event in the history of Glendale. Proof of prediction is seen in the stock of 5000 gingham dresses to be sold at 97 cents each, according to copy for a full-page advertisement appearing in next Monday's Evening News.

These dresses are all of Security and Amoskeag gingham, plain, checks and plaids in all sizes, colors and styles.

They will be on display in the Webb store windows today and Monday, and on Tuesday morning, at 9 o'clock, the sale will open. In order to handle the sale, the regular store staff has been greatly augmented by additional salespeople.

For the benefit of out-of-town patrons, the Webb company has consented to accept orders by mail if the size and color desired are stated.

Desperate Measures Taken In Nebraska Metropolis To Stop Epidemic any kind of a car or truck loaded up barrels, old gasoline cans, or any receptacle that would hold water and peddle their precious cargoes from door to door, reaping a rich harvest from their fellow citizens.

Officials of the packing plants announced today that, although they expected to re-open their establishments on Monday, they might be forced to suspend indefinitely, and other firms are also closed because of the lack of water and because of the terror that is driving people out of Omaha by every possible avenue of escape until the epidemic shows signs of yielding to the health officers in their battle to subdue it.

More than 25,000 people are reported out of work this week—and the city is sustaining a loss of approximately $5,000,000 by this unusual civic catastrophe.

Informal Affair

A very delightful party was enjoyed by a number of the younger set, who were the guests of Miss Dorothy West, Thursday night at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. West, 1707 Gardena avenue. The evening was spent in dancing and games. Fruit punch was served, and later refreshments of ice cream, cake and candy were served by the hostess, assisted by her mother and girl friends.

The guests of the occasion were Misses Marjorie Gilhuly, Luella Ashton, Dorothy Murphy, Helen Winslow, Rose Schwartzkopf, and Messrs. John Franklin, James Moffett, Richard Stone, Harold Beggs, Vernon Boone, Erwin Yeo and Dale Robinson.

HUGE CROWDS AT ADVENTIST CAMP

Elder Prout Will Be Speaker Tonight; Sabbath Is Observed by Many

The record attendance at the annual camp meeting of the Southern California Conference of Seventh-day Adventists now in progress in Los Angeles, and the realization that as the years pass adequate camp sites will be scarce, resulted yesterday in the camp voting to authorize the conference officers to consider possible future sites with a view to selecting one for a long time lease as a place for a permanent camp.

The crowd in camp was greatly augmented late yesterday afternoon by the arrival of several hundred church people, who are joining in the Sabbath activities of the day.

Sabbath school was held at 9:15 o'clock and was followed by the morning worship with sermon by Elder A. G. Daniels. Elder E. E. Farnsworth was scheduled to speak at 3 o'clock this afternoon, and tonight at 7:45 o'clock Elder Prout will be the speaker.

West Broadway Meet Called by O. M. Newby

There will be a meeting of the West Broadway Improvement association at 8 o'clock Tuesday night, August 28, in the office of O. M. Newby, president, 107 South Central avenue.

The matter of a ten-foot setback line on each side of West Broadway, from Central avenue to the San Fernando road, will be the principal subject under discussion, according to Mr. Newby, who states that 3500 feet of property along the street within those bounds has been signed up for the improvement and that it is the plan of the association to take the matter up with the City Council on Thursday night, August 30.

Suspect Halts When Bullet Whizzes Past

A shot fired near the intersection of San Fernando and Los Angeles roads about 11:35 last night by Patrolman James Claxton was the cause of considerable excitement. The principal "excitee" was Frank Ramon of Los Angeles, African brunette with no particular vocation—at least not at that hour in Glendale.

Neglecting to pay proper respect to a command to halt and give an account of himself, Ramon was persuaded to hesitate by a bullet which passed him, a few feet above his head. When asked later if this bullet caused him to throw up his hands, he admitted: "Yes, sah. Ah shore did reach to de hebbens!"

After the circumstances of Ramon's presence in Glendale had been investigated, he was released from a "lodging" in No. 1 station this morning and departed from Glendale.

on Mariposa, which Mr. Page will occupy.

The sale, which was made through William H. La Fountain, 715 South Brand boulevard, involves approximately $20,000. Mr. Page plans, in addition to the apartment house, to erect two modern residences on the portion of the property facing East Palmer avenue.

Mr. Page has sold his holdings at the corner of Glendale and East Acacia avenue and will move to his new home on Mariposa street in the near future.

Sale of the La Crescenta picnic grounds, camp and filling station to Edward Waxman of Glendale is reported by Mr. La Fountain, who also reports sale of a lot on San Fernando road to a local capitalist for investment.

It is understood that Mr. Waxman will run the La Crescenta picnic grounds as a high-class place where refined people will be glad to go. There will be dancing there every Wednesday and Saturday night.

GIRL SCOUTS BACK FROM CAMP TRIP

Many Members of Glendale Troop Pass Semaphore Test During Week

The Glendale Girl Scouts of Troop One, who have been in camp near the springs in the vicinity of Santa Paula, returned home Friday night.

The girls spent a very busy, happy week in regular scout work. Morning exercise, assembly, signal practice, filling the morning hours and swimming during the afternoons. A splendid swimming pool was located in easy walking distance, which was well patronized. Many of the girls passed semaphore tests.

Among the parents and friends who motored up to camp Friday, to accompany them home, were Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Temple and son Charles, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hart and son Charles, Mrs. Alton R. Goodale and daughter Evelyn, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Kennedy and daughter Earline, N. H. Stanley, Ralph and Helen Stanley, Frank C. Ayars and F. A. Beach.

This party arrived in time to share in the last camp luncheon. Camp was broken immediately and the entire party reached Glendale about 5 o'clock.

Members of the Troop are Cecil Chase, Mary Jo Phillips, Alexandria Bagley, Fredericka Browne, Mary Stanley, Charlotte Cleveland, Vivian Noy, Carolyn Ayars, Marjorie Hart, Marjorie Temple, Lucile Beach, Wilma Gosser, Alice Carpenter, Lucile Harris, Katherine Bender, Beryl Goodale, Evelyn Traver, and Captain, Miss Gladys Sharpe.

H. D. Charlton Opening Architectural Office

Friends of H. D. Charlton are glad to hear of his return to Glendale and that he has again opened his architectural office in this city. He recently left the architectural and building firm, which he started some two years ago, to go in with his father, who for some time has maintained a large office of the same kind in Los Angeles. Mr. Charlton Sr. has followed the architectural line for thirty-eight years and a number of the large office buildings and hotels in Los Angeles were built from his plans.

TUJUNGA BUILDING ACTIVE IN VERDUGO HILLS

Addition to Breidt Block and Other Improvements Noted at Tujunga

Richard J. Smith, contractor and builder, has completed plans and been awarded the contract for an additional story to be added to the Breidt building on Sunset boulevard, near El Centro.

This second story will be the home of the Acacia club of the Masonic order which has for some time been in search of suitable quarters. A lease has been taken on the quarters which have been especially designed to meet the club's needs. The contractor will rush construction work in an endeavor to have the building ready for occupancy within sixty days.

The dimensions of the addition are 40x50 feet and will include a lounge room, preparatory and examination room, a kitchen, dining-room and store room.

Masons in the valley who are interested can get further information regarding the club by communicating with James Robbins, Box 741, Tujunga, Calif.

Plans are also being prepared by R. J. Smith for a residence in rustic style for Mrs. A. Hendricks, to be built on her property at Cedar and Los Angeles streets. The construction will favor the mountain cabin style found in the Big Bear region.

Captain James Robbins expects to start construction work on a home for himself in the Oak Glen tract, where he has recently purchased lot seven.

Work on Studio

Work is progressing rapidly on the new Laura Lee Sweet studio on Michigan avenue, which is to be the home of the Artists' & Authors' Association of Tujunga valley. George Harris, exponent of fashioned by nature architecture, is directing the work. A large stone fireplace in the main salon will be a feature and arbors in rustic and a roof garden will be others.

Jeffries & Jeffries, contractors, have contracted for several buildings, including a modern four-room bungalow for Mrs. Gertrude Martingale on her South Pine street property.

They have just completed the plans for a new building to house the Sunland Rural Telephone company's offices and exchange when the company contemplates merger plans now contemplated and moves from the present location in Sunland. The new building will go up on the corner of Palm and Los Angeles streets.

Plans and specifications have been drawn for an addition to the Walker residence on North Sunset boulevard.

Up-to-date machinery is being installed by Mr. and Mrs. McKay at 233 South Cedar street for laundry work.

The Flora Morgan property has been partly subdivided and placed on the market. It is close to the business section of town, yet affords the desirable canyon and hillside sites.

With the curtailing of irrigation water to the San Fernando users, interest has again been aroused in the speculation as to when the big dam will be built in Big Tujunga canyon.

The city of Los Angeles recently dropped efforts to secure the necessary land when witnesses for the city stated that they did not need the site. Engineer Mulholland says the project has been definitely abandoned, yet the city's supply of water is not abundant, as the recent curtailment order would indicate.

Options differ as to the desirability of a dam and the resulting lake behind it in the canyon. According to reports, complainants of the odorous condition of the aqueduct water were given the explanation that heavy demands had been made on the supply and the reservoirs have been drained low, with the unpleasant result. There is also a persistent rumor to the effect that real estate subdividers have been discouraged from opening any tracts and promising a supply of aqueduct water.

This is used as a weapon by the anti-annexationists of Tujunga, who argue that annexation to the city of Los Angeles would not solve the water question, as those in favor of annexation claim. Further, that this question is not an important local issue in the second place, inasmuch as the Haines Canyon Water company meets the demand satisfactorily.

Another angle that is given considerable thought in the undesirability of a reservoir in the entrance to Big Tujunga Canyon is if it could not be maintained above the mudhole class. This canyon is one of Southern California's scenic wonders and is just beginning to be appreciated by the motoring public. A mudhole at the entrance would not enhance its beauty.

Red Cross Life Saver Teaches Swimming

"Learn to Swim!" is the slogan the Red Cross has chosen for Glendaleans for the week August 27 to September 1, and the Patterson park plunge has been selected as the "swimmin' hole," with Arthur B. Bonner, representative of the American Red Cross life saving corps, in charge every morning beginning at 9:30 o'clock.

There will be swimming instruction, tests and exhibitions. Only those who can swim 100 yards will be registered for the tests.

TODAY—Some New York Highlights.

By JACK CARBERRY
For International News Service

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—All financiers do not office on Wall street. There's Henry Hoffman, of the Bronx. Next door is an open-air movie theatre—Henry rents out seats on his roof.

June may be the month of brides.

At one Broadway hotel this week thirty-nine bridal couples registered on one day.

"Steep persons died of heat yesterday," is a not uncommon morning paper headline this August. And yet, in New York's subways are the car cards:

"Snug winter underwear at Blank's."

"Broadway—the Street of Beautiful Women."

And yet it is not from Broadway the beauties come. The latest arrival is Patricia Salmon, discovered by sport writers who "covered" the Dempsey-Gibbons affair at Shelby. Miss Salmon will soon make her appearance in Flo Zeigfeld's chorus.

"The most beautiful girls on the stage today are from the west and south," "Ziggy," whose slogan is "glorify the American girl," declares. He points to the two shining examples of New York beauty—Jessie Reed, who used to sell stockings over the counter of a Milan street store in Houston, Texas, and Peggy-Hopkins Joyce, the former Denver, Colorado, telephone girl.

Patrick Walsh, oldest guard on the New York subways, took his first day off in two years—and spent it riding in the trains with fellow motormen. New York laughed at the story.

Billy Wilker

A fat butcher named Billy angry by throwing a tin can and hitting Nannie. Biff! Bang! And he was doubled up and flying over his chopping block behind the counter. There he lay groaning, while Billy and Nannie continued their way up the street.

"Are you hungry, Nan? For, if you are, we will go back and eat up some of that fellow's lettuce and carrots."

"I believe I am, now you speak of it."

"Well, then, come ahead and let us eat a good breakfast before we try to find the Exposition grounds."

The two returned to the butcher's shop and helped themselves to the fresh lettuce, carrots and juicy red apples. The butcher would raise himself up on his elbow and peek over the counter, but on seeing Billy would sink back without a murmur, for fear Billy would discover him and give him another butt.

But at last he thought that the goats were eating too much of his stuff, so he managed to call out, "Get out of there, you rascals!"

Billy took one step toward him, shaking his head as he went, which was sufficient for the man, for he doubled up again behind the counter, calling out, "Go ahead, my friend! Eat all you want! I don't object."

When they had finished, Nannie barked their thanks and the two walked up the street until they came to California avenue. On seeing the cars go up and down its steep incline, Nannie just stood still, so fascinated was she. While she was gazing her fill, the butcher, hearing no sounds of chewing, thought the goats must be gone, so screwed up his courage and stuck his head up over the chopping block and looked around. Not seeing them, he slowly got upon his feet, he rubbed his fat stomach, which had nearly been butted out of the other side of him, and walked to his front door to see in what direction the goats had gone.

When he found all his lettuce had been eaten, besides a quart or two of carrots and a half dozen choice apples, he exclaimed:

"Mein Gott in himmel! Dem goats half ruined me! Und nodings would please me more dan to butcher dem in hot blood. Not

But, by actual count:

Two Wall street brokers spent their vacations looking over the stock markets of Boston and Philadelphia.

Seven Shubert chorus girls spent their visiting every other show in town.

One Coney Island life guard spent his on Brighton Beach.

A chef at the Ritz went home so he could cook for his folks.

And the master of a Hudson River New York to Albany boat took a sea trip to Boston.

Mr. Tex Austin, who hails from the Medicine Hat country, doesn't believe the "east is east and west is west and never, etc., etc."

If the east won't go to see Cheyenne, Wyo., Frontier Days "Tex" will bring Cheyenne here, he announces.

And so the Wyoming cowboy has rented the giant Yankee stadium to produce the west's greatest rodeo.

There is at least one street in New York which defies time—"Clothesline Alley" of Greenwich Village. Around it, where Gay street meets Christopher street, has come the herd of "Bohemians"—the department store clerks and the bookkeepers and the cleaners and such, paying at "being different."

Line Alley—it's the street's official name—still houses its "just folk" and defies the changing of time.

One by one the relics of war are being swallowed up in the tide of peace. But in Brooklyn, pasted on an old red brick building on Adams street, are four torn Liberty Bond posters, pleading support for "the boys over there," a silent reminder that after all, the plea was not in vain.

DISAPPOINTING RING-FITTING JOBS

Piston Rings Are For Packing Round, Smooth Cylinder Bores

Numerous letters have recently come in, relating the woes of correspondents who have just had their engines equipped with new piston rings or new pistons and rings, in an honest effort to secure better performance, and who have been bitterly disappointed upon finding that their engines ran worse, rather than better, after the change. Such complaints as "engine shows low gasoline mileage and has no pep," "cannot start engine with the starter," "engine stalled and couldn't be turned over" have been frequent. Reports like these indicate that there are lots of ill-advised and inferior ring and piston fitting jobs done and that there is much lack of care on the part of users in "working in" refitted engines. An engine presumably needs new rings, when with all its valves seating tightly and plenty of fresh oil on the cylinder walls its cylinders will not hold gas reasonably perfectly, when it is under pressure during the performance of the compression stroke. If spark plugs foul with oil and the oil splash to the cylinder walls is not excessive, some change in the piston rings is generally called for. The sad part of it all is that the installation of new rings is by no means a sure cure for gas-leaking of oil-pumping cylinders, and it is to be regretted that the ability of piston rings to correct these evils is so greatly overestimated as to cause the fitting of new rings to be recommended when it cannot possibly improve matters greatly. Cylinder bores are assumed to be perfectly smooth and free from scratches and scores, of perfectly circular section and of nearly uniform diameter, and with these conditions in view piston rings are designed to assume a truly circular shape, when in place. Unfortunately, however, the cylinder bores of engines which have seen very long service, which have been so imperfectly lubricated as to have suffered much cylinder wear or which have been scratched and grooved by running dry or by the displacement of piston rings, become of irregular elliptical cross section, lack uniformity of diameter and are no longer smooth and circular, so that piston rings cannot be expected to conform closely to their walls, much less to prevent gas and oil movement along the grooves in them. All motorists are urged not to go to the expense of fitting new rings, with any confident expectation of satisfactory results, until the cylinder bores of their engines have been pronounced by a competent mechanic to be sufficiently free from ovalization and wear of scores to warrant the operation. If cylinder bores are found seriously imperfect they must be made smooth and true before any new rings or labor are wasted on them.

LIFE OF PISTON RINGS

W. H. C. writes: My car has been run but 7,000 miles in all, but has not been working well of late, two of the cylinders acting rather weak. The repair-shop people say that my engine needs new rings. Do you think this is likely? How long should piston rings last, anyway?

Answer: Your engine should not require new piston rings too early, nor until it has run at least double the distance you state it has. This is on the assumption, of course, that your engine had first-rate rings in the beginning, and that none has been broken, and that its lubrication has never failed to be adequate. If, when their valves are perfectly tight, two of your cylinders leak gas, the presumption is that their piston rings are

REAR BODY BOLTS LOOSE

R. E. asks: What causes my car to make a loud thump whenever it goes over a bad bump with nobody in it except me? I don't hear much noise when anyone is in the back no more.

Answer: It may be that some of the rear bolts, which hold the body to the frame, are loose and that, when there is no load in the back seat, the body throws up a little and makes the noise which you speak of. You had better go over all these bolts and tighten them securely and also see that the floor boards are screwed down tight, so that they cannot joggle.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

Beyond Him

The proprietor of a tanyard in New York was anxious to fix a suitable sign to his premises. Finally a happy thought struck him.

He bored a hole through the door post and stuck a calf's tail out into it, with the tufted end outside.

After a while he saw a solemn-faced man standing near the door looking at the sign. The tanner stepped outside and addressed him. "Good morning, sir," he said. "Good morning," said the other without taking his eyes off the sign.

"Do you want to buy any leather?" asked the tanner. "No."

"Perhaps you've got some hides to sell?"

"No."

"What are you, then?"

"I'm a philosopher. I've been standing here for an hour trying to find out how that calf got through that hole."

Now that the Leviathan has broken the speed record and proved her worthiness, there is only one thing she needs, and that is a good American patronage. If she doesn't get that, it's back to the ship yards for her.

A LITTLE SLICE O' LIFE

It was after midnight, and some people were trying to get to sleep.

The apartment house Tetrazini. On one of the top floors, was at concert pitch and was going unusually strong.

We have often wondered at her. She sings eighteen hours a day. One gruff voice yelled: "Stop that cat fight!"

Another yelled: "Rotten!" A third yelled the singer to get on the key or quit.

Many others protested. And in a moment she began All over once more, and sang: "I Hear You Calling!"

And then she kept practicing Until long after 2 o'clock.

If that woman ever gets a job On the concert stage that will Take her away from home, How happy we will be.

At least one great international political question has been settled amid the applause of parliament.

Lady Astor, the American member of that body, has discarded black clothes and now enters the House of Commons arrayed in gay gowns. What else matters?

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— BY HOWARD R. GARIS —

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE PEDDLER DOGS

"Now, Uncle Wiggily," said Nurse Jane one day, "I am going out for a little while, and I don't want you to buy anything."

"Buy anything? What do you mean?" asked the rabbit gentleman, as he sat on the porch of his hollow stump bungalow. "Do you mean I'm not to buy anything for supper?"

"Of course not!" laughed Miss Fuzzy Wuzzie. "You aren't to buy anything for supper, because I have everything we need. But more especially, you aren't to buy anything from the peddler dogs that come to the back door. Don't buy any soap, any collar buttons, any flatiron holders, any safety pins or anything like that. We have all those things."

"How about court plaster?" asked Uncle Wiggily with a twinkle of his pink nose.

"We have all of that we need!" laughed Nurse Jane. "So please buy nothing, you'll only clutter the bungalow up with it."

"All right," agreed the rabbit gentleman, and Nurse Jane went off down to the eight and nine cent store to buy some new keys for the piano.

Uncle Wiggily was sitting on the steps, dozing away, when he was awakened by hearing a knock. Opening his eyes the rabbit gentleman saw an old ragged dog peddler with a pack on his back.

"Thank you, no," exclaimed Uncle Wiggily, before the peddler dog could bark, "we need no soap, safety pins and especially court plaster—nothing at all today, thank you."

"How about a can opener?" asked the peddler dog, opening his pack and showing a new patent can opener. It will pull corks from bottles, scrub the bathroom floor, light the electric lights and mend your automobile. Only ten cents."

"Certainly that seems cheap enough," remarked Uncle Wiggily, and Nurse Jane didn't tell me not to buy a can opener. I'll take just one," he said to the peddler dog.

"Thank you, Uncle Wiggily," barked the dog. So the patent can opener was put on the kitchen table and Nurse Jane went to sleep again as the peddler dog walked off.

"Knock! Knock! Knock!" the bunny gentleman was awakened again, and opening his eyes he saw another peddler dog with a pack on his back.

"Thank you, nothing today," spoke the rabbit. "No collar buttons, no soap and no can openers—I just bought one."

"How about an oil can?" asked the second peddler dog. "The most useful oil can you ever saw. It will make your whole day run smoothly to have one. Only ten cents."

"Hum!" mused the bunny. "Nurse Jane didn't tell me not to buy an oil can. I'll take just one."

"Thank you," barked the peddler dog, and as he walked away the bunny went to sleep again.

Legion Squad Cleans Lots for Club Site

The "antiseptic squad" spent two hours and a half early last night welding shovels, hoes and mauls in a battle against unsightly weeds and underbrush on the northeast corner of Mountain and Campbell streets, which is owned by the local post of the American Legion.

The comrades, who were present, worked with a will and were able to clean up a large corner of the property. At the conclusion of their activities mess was served by J. H. Wittmeyer, corporal of the squad.

Commander Chalmers D. Day was in command. Privates in the front and rear ranks consisted of George L. Kaeding, Clarence Edwards, E. L. Fortier, Victor Carr, Dr. William C. Mabry, Lester Marston and Ivan Crocker.

Hunt for Missing Film Stars on Lost Yacht

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—Fearing for the safety of Colleen Moore, Milton Sills, Elliott Dexter and several other prominent motion picture people, who had put to sea in a yacht in connection with filming a picture, a power boat left early today from Balboa to search for the missing party.

MINOR OPERATION

A minor operation was performed upon Mrs. H. Greatrex of 514 North Kenwood street this morning at the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital.

Glendale Urged to Organize Team to Participate in Winter Ball
The eagerness with which baseball fans of the Southland are welcoming the proposal to establish a Class C league in a number of Southern California cities is regarded as guaranteeing the success of the project, according to Jesse E. EAGLE ROCK

COMPLAIN ABOUT
TROLLEY SERVICE

Los Angeles Board of Public Utilities Says Nothing Can Be Done

The Los Angeles Board of Public Utilities has decided that figures do not warrant increased service for Eagle Rock, under present conditions, according to H. M. Bruce, president of the local Improvement Association, who took the matter up with the board, as a representative of the Chamber of Commerce, Realty Board and Improvement Association of this community.

There is, however, a glint of light in the darkness. M. Reacher, superintendent of schedules of the Los Angeles Railway Company, will be present at the next open forum meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, which will be held at the city hall on East Colorado boulevard Tuesday night, September 5.

It is suggested by Mr. Bruce that the residents of the community turn out in a body and show this gentleman where Eagle Rock stands in the transportation controversy, after which he will be better informed and able to advise additional service.

The matter of "express car service," suggested to the Los Angeles railway by H. H. Maxson, is still under consideration, but has not yet been acted upon, it is understood.

A check was made on July 23, this year, according to Mr. Bruce, that showed 1,851 local people used the inbound (to Los Angeles) cars and 1,729 used those outbound, in an eighteen-hour period from 6 o'clock in the morning until midnight.

Teachers Leave
When E. E. Harwood, former superintendent of Eagle Rock schools, left to accept a similar position at Hermosa Beach, residents here felt his loss keenly. And now comes news of the loss of two other local teachers.

One is Miss Christensen, a great favorite among both pupils and faculty of the Central school, who is exchanging these hills for the sand dunes of Hermosa, where she will have charge of the domestic

Ruth Wing Taylor's Car
Is Stolen and Stripped

The account of the theft of a roadster from Ruth Wing Taylor, editor of the "Blue Book of the Screen," and its discovery in an alley near Wall street, Los Angeles, stripped of practically all of its accessories, is of interest to Glendale residents who remember Mrs. Taylor as Ruth Wing, who made her home here several years ago with her grandparents, who lived on the property on East Colorado that was recently subdivided and sold as the Winz Orange Grove tract.

COLLISION REPORTED

A collision was reported by George W. Rodgers of Los Angeles last night to the police department. He stated that his machine was standing at the curb, near the intersection of Adams street and Lomita avenue, when its front end was struck by a machine driven by Raymond Boman of 718 East Raleigh street.

science department, a line of work similar to that she did here. Miss Barlow, the efficient Central school nurse, will henceforth occupy a position at Hermosa Beach also, and will in addition do some work among the children at Redondo Beach.

Regarding Street Names
Mr. Vanderburg, who has charge of naming Los Angeles streets, reports that he has nearly fifty Eagle Rock thoroughfares properly designated, but cannot say when he will have the task completed, as this community is not the only part of "the roarin' town" anxious to get its street nomenclature straightened out.

Mrs. Mecartea of Central avenue enjoyed having four of her sons with her last Sunday, when a big chicken dinner with all the "fixins" was served to twenty or more relatives.

After dinner a group photograph was taken, including four generations—Mr. Rowland, his daughter, Mrs. Mecartea, her oldest son and his daughter making the quadruple linked chain of ancestry.

SUNLAND

KIWANIAN PICNIC
AT MONTE VISTA

Van Nuys Band and Other Big Stunts Scheduled for Valley Club Event

Monte Vista park, Sunland, will be the scene of a big picnic for and by Kiwanians and their families and sweethearts next Monday, August 27, when members of that club from Glendale, San Fernando, Lancaster, Burbank, Van Nuys, Hollywood and way stations gather under the great oaks for an old time jubilee picnic.

The Van Nuys and San Fernando clubs are the instigators of this event and John W. Muckley of San Fernando is chairman of the program committee. Stunts of all kinds and descriptions will be provided for an expected crowd of from 800 to 1000 persons, ranging from the sublime to the ridiculous (the stunts, not the crowd).

Tentative plans for a program included a baseball game between San Fernando and Van Nuys, in which an endeavor will be made to keep the collective runs scored under the forty mark. Following this exhibition of athletic skill and daring will be a tug of war, races for fat men, 100 yards; for fat—big pardon—plump women, 100 yards or less; race for uniformed Boy Scouts under fourteen years, fifty yards; race for uniformed Scouts over fourteen years, fifty yards; three-legged race for boys and one for girls, each fifty yards; a nail driving contest for women; (a thumb-insurance man will be on the grounds with accident policies.)

Lots of Fun Sure
There will be music by the Van Nuys Kiwanis band and several stunts, including character impersonations. The band will be: Boob character, Bill Becheimer; a la grande, John Sweeney; rubes at a picnic, Scott Pyle; Kiwanis Funnymen, by Bob Glenn and other stunts for the delight of the brothers. Ensemble singing will be effected on the natives of Sunland also.

Verbal salutes, by big guns, Governor Bill Brown, Lieutenant Jack Whyte, Leslie B. Henry and others. All Kiwanians and friends are invited. Coffee and punch and ice cream will be provided, but the general impression gathered from statements by the committee is that those craving more substantial nourishment should bring a well filled basket. A basket supper will be scheduled for six o'clock after which the orators will do their stuff.

Recent sales in the Olive Grove tract have been numerous and the following buyers are listed among the latest to acquire business and home site property there: L. C. Denman, Glendale, five lots; Charles Stanley, Edendale, two lots; Mr. Burgess, Watts, two; Mr. Ashton, Watts, one; Mr. Carter, Los Angeles, two; Mrs. Rice, Los Angeles, one; Mr. Grateau, Los Angeles, one; Mr. Porter, Los Angeles, one; Mrs. Brown, Sunland, one; Mr. Vaughn, Los Angeles, one; Mr. Moore, Los Angeles, one; and Mr. Guthrie of Los Angeles bought four lots. Some of the lots will be improved as business property and some as homesites and week end retreats.

Build for Teacher
Jeffries & Jeffries, Tujunga contractors, are building a residence for Miss Hazel Pester, who will teach in the Sunland school next term.

The Olive Grove subdivision is a tract that was once devoted entirely to the production of olives, as the name would indicate and contains trees that have contributed liberally to Sunland prosperity. It was known as one of the largest producing orchards in the country and the trees are fine specimens. The grove was started about thirty-five or forty years ago and has produced steadily in large quantities ever since the trees reached maturity.

H. H. Coko has returned to his home on Walnut drive after an absence of several weeks spent on his ranch near Tulare.

BOY BITTEN BY BULLDOG
Russell Andrews, son of H. P. Andrews of 627 Fisher street, yesterday was bitten by a dog, which is reported to live at 1240 Dorothy drive.

Glendale's Growth
Our 'Prophetic' Business Work Writes of Coolidge
Senator Johnson's Position
By Gil A. Cowan

ARE you an enthusiast? Do you believe in Glendale? Have you bet your bottom dollar on this city's future? How much of a booster are you? And what do you know about the building records hung up here?

Of course, it must be taken for granted, you qualify in this little intelligence test, but, just to reassure yourselves of facts and figures and general information, will you please turn to the Development Section of tonight's issue of The Glendale Evening News and get a glimpse of the growing city through word pictures!

The writer would like to shout from the very hill tops of Glendale's prosperity, it is so wonderful. You would think so, too, if you could struggle with advertising and other business being done by The Glendale Evening News' loyal employees.

It seems only yesterday when this paper moved into its most commodious quarters at 139 South Brand boulevard, in a building designed for a great publishing plant. It seemed like a promise then to see the business in the future. Yet today we find that August, dullest month of the year, is setting new records.

The Glendale Evening News grows with Glendale, but with eyes to the future always. Radiant optimism, unbounded confidence, and true understanding of the needs of the community has made this great institution what it is today.

One cannot fail to express humble pride in leadership and recognition accorded the "home town" newspaper.

You will note in the development pages today that ten times the amount of building has been done already in 1923 as was recorded in Glendale the whole year of 1919.

Looking back, however, one will find that the year following the war was the renaissance of prosperity which has had no let-up. On February 8, 1919, the writer jotted down a sentence in the editorial column as follows:

"Beautiful weather, many tourists, and a spirit of enterprise on every side give Glendale an air of decided prosperity."

Yet prophecy sometimes is years in fulfillment, for another sentence said:

"Visions of the future hold forth two or more magnificent tourist hotels, with their big, quiet rooms, dance floors and country clubs in the adjoining hills."

Plans are now being completed for these aforesaid "two hotels," with another in prospect. The Portland Country club now is building in the green Verdugo hills.

Daniel of Biblical fame had better look to his laurels. For we find a "prophetic" business to boost Glendale and Southern California.

Dispensing with local conditions, let us delve into politics for a few hundred words of prattle about presidential possibilities. Dr. Hubert Work, secretary of the California National Association, an Indiana friend, has written an old Indiana friend and fellow member of the President Coolidge and the 1924 Republican presidential nomination.

"There seems to be no disagreement among leaders here in Washington, nor those who have been from outside during the last week, as the wisdom of closing up our ranks behind the new president as the party candidate if he will consent. The public already appreciates his quality, and I am sure his election will follow."

"His inimitable Harding organization and policies, and, logically, should be supported for the nomination precisely as his predecessor would have been, had he lived."

Perhaps no man in the United States is as well qualified by temperament and experience for the duties of the presidency upon short notice as President Coolidge. "As above indicated, I have heard no contrary opinion expressed as to the wisdom of going forward."

No one can condone the disgraceful tactics of defeated interests in stealing personal correspondence for political purposes, such as is revealed in the instance of an attack on Senator Hiram Johnson.

It matters little whether Hiram Johnson is a candidate for president, the principle concerned intrigues the public to the point of "standing by" in the hour of trial. Scurrilous lies, emanating from the sources which published this private correspondence, also would make the people believe that certain newspapermen endeavored to stop the publication of President Harding's World Court speech in San Francisco.

And yet the very ones who make this palpably false accusation which is based on hypothetical construal—or is it misconstruction—are rushing forth with the "letter" that purports to put Johnson on record as fearing his name on a presidential possibility next year.

The people may judge, but if the senior California senator never becomes the nation's chief executive, it will be no fault of his traducers who, by their very actions, are making him the most unusual figure in American politics—the one man who could ever whimsically attain the presidency if the United States had a direct primary.

Should his political career do nothing more than effect this desirable change in our federal government—that of letting the people rule the politicians instead of the politicians ruling the people—it will go down in history as an achievement second only to the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

For, until the time the ballot box shall decide who shall be named to executive office, this government is endangered by the classes.

Glendale Athletes Will Play Pasadena

The Glendale Athletes have dated up the Pasadena Monarchs for a game at Haddock-Nibley's Happyland Amusement park tomorrow, Sunday, August 26, at 2:30, when a fast game is predicted. Manager Chas. P. Brice, Jr. has been working his men into good shape for tomorrow's pastime, as he knows that the Pasadena team is an organization that is able to give any team a real argument, but with the new line-up that he will send into the game he expects to win. The line-up follows: Tommy Morgan, P.; Roy Faulstich, C.; M. Carmargo, 2nd; R. Reid, S.; C. Jensen, 3rd; B. Riddle, L. F.; G. Morrison, C. F.; F. Easley, R. F.

THE A

A single by Frisch with the bases full gave the Giants a four-run inning decision over the Cardinals, 4 to 2.

The Senators made merry at the expense of five Indian pitchers and won 20 to 8.

THE GLENDALE

"Skid Proof," with Charles Jones, is the William Fox racing romance at the Glendale Theatre today. The story is by Byron Morgan, scenario by Harry Gates and direction by Scott Dunlap.

Grouped about Mr. Jones in this fast-moving comedy drama are Lura Anton, Peggy Shaw, Harry Tracy, Fred Eric, Jacqueline Gadsdon and Claude Peyton. Miss Anton poses as the petite actress. When Charles falls in love with her, a merry whirl of action is released, culminating in a mad cross-continent auto dash.

Starting Sunday, "Tea-With-a-Kick" will be the feature photograph for three days. It features twenty-seven stars, ten prize beauties and 100 Hollywood heart-breakers in the ballet.

Paul Carson will play a prelude in C sharp minor by Rachmaninoff Sunday evening.

ELKS CIRCUS IS ASSURED SUCCESS

Boxing Bouts Main Feature On Tonight's Program At Clubhouse

The opening performance at the Elks indoor circus last night went off with a bang, according to members of the order who participated in the big doings, and Elks were present from all adjacent cities to help in making the circus a success and to raise funds to send the Elks band to Eureka to the annual state convention next month.

Every number on the program was enthusiastically received, and it is predicted that tonight's attendance will be away ahead of the mark set last night. The high lights of tonight's performance will be the distribution of the many prizes that have been offered in the various events to be pulled off, and the four bouts that will wind up the program in the big auditorium. Harry McCartney has signed up an aggressive bunch of mitt slingers for tonight, and the boxing fans of Glendale will be given a rare treat, he promises.

COURTESY IS BECOMING HABIT OF DRIVERS

Hard-Boiled Autoist Passing from Highways, Claim Club Officials

HARD-BOILED auto drivers are going out of style. Most motorists now are really "soft-boiled."

Synthetic chauffeurism is a "has been!" These deductions have been reached from recent investigations conducted by the safety and touring bureaus of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

There was a time, it is pointed out, when to operate a car in a hard-boiled and defiant manner—taking the right of way regardless of the rights of others, breaking through traffic at every opportunity and cutting in—was considered not only smart but very stylish.

Courtesy Pays

Now automobile drivers are learning that the "smart" driver is one who drives courteously and observes the general traffic rules of his locality. It has been found out, says the auto club, that greater speed can be made this way, fewer accidents result, and a better appetite is had for dinner.

Under the skin, the majority of motorists are really becoming soft-boiled. They are allowing their kind hearts to be uppermost while driving their cars and are becoming more considerate of others. Synthetic or "diluted" driving of motor cars is largely giving way to experienced operation of automobiles. There are fewer bone-head operators because the majority of potential auto owners have passed through the kindergarten stage of motoring and have settled down to businesslike driving.

New Driver Worst

Weeks of investigation as to the cause of accidents on the part of the Southern California club has resulted in the knowledge that the "hardest" driver is the newest driver. In other words, the owners of new automobiles are inclined to be more aggressive in the operation of their cars than are the seasoned owners.

It is not only inexperience on the part of the new car owners which accounts for the large number of accidents with new cars, say the authorities, but rather the tendency toward reckless driving when they begin to feel their oats.

CHECK TOOL KIT BEFORE YOUR TRIP

Better Have Too Many Than Too Few, Otherwise Troubles Are Sure

By C. PURCELL SCOTT
Written for The Evening News

WHEN it comes to tools one may better have too many than too few. Tools are easily misplaced or lost and it is of vital importance to see to it that the tool kit is well supplied before starting on the tour. It does little good to know the trouble if you do not have the right tools with which to make the repair.

It is surprising how few motorists check over the tool kit before starting on their trip. A pump, a jack, a pair of pliers and a screw driver are the only tools carried in the average tool box. The set of tools that comes with the car usually contain every wrench needed for minor adjustments. The car manufacturer has studied the needs for various tools with which he has equipped the car and you may be sure that there is a special use for each and every wrench. The missing tools should be replaced when the trip is planned.

Tells of Experience

During our recent rambles over the country we encountered many disciples of the "Will-you-lend-me" club. On one occasion we met a fellow from a nearby state who was starting on a tour of the west. His car had stopped for some reason unknown to him and he asked our assistance. We soon traced the trouble to the gas line and asked him for a wrench with which to remove the coupling. He said he had no wrenches, but he thought he had a pair of pliers some place in the car. These he brought forth after diligently searching under both front and back seats. And what a fine pair of pliers they were—to call them pliers would be an insult to the plier family. They were of the side-cutting variety with the jaws both broken, handy perhaps for repairing fences at one time, but of no value to an automobile. We soon remedied the trouble with equipment from our own tool box and advised our less fortunate friend to drop into a Western Auto store and provide himself with a set of tools.

His Brother's Legacy
Another unfortunate we met was stalled in the middle of a stream that passed over the road. He immediately informed us, after

Comfort of Expensive Apartment En Tour With New Rolling Cottage

HERE is a rolling cottage which takes all of the summer's best prizes. Traveling homes are not at all unusual any more.

But when one is brought forth, the description of which reads like an extract from an advertisement for an apartment of greater than average size the vehicle is far from ordinary, according to Harry E. White, local Reo dealer, at San Fernando road and Brand boulevard.

It hardly seems possible that a mobile dwelling could have two large bedrooms, a combined living room and dining room, bathroom, kitchen, and driving compartment, yet all of these are claimed for the "Motor Pullman Car" owned and designed by J. H. Brown, of Battle Creek, Mich., newspaper editor and manager of the Michigan Automobile Tours.

Inside measurements of the car are 14 feet in length, 6 feet 3 inches in width, and 5 feet 9 inches in height. The interior is finished in solid oak and upholstered in dark brown Spanish leather. Linoleum and rugs cover

CITIES PLAN CONCERTED ACTION ON AUTO LAW

Uniform Enforcement of New Statute Is Sought by Many Communities

FIRST steps toward the establishment of uniform auto law enforcement throughout the southern counties of California have been taken.

That a vital necessity exists for co-operation among the various smaller towns, cities and counties of this part of the state, is the opinion of traffic experts who are making it their business to see that motoring is conducted in a harmonious manner.

At a recent meeting in Los Angeles county, officials of the various communities decided upon concerted action in various "drives" to be conducted in enforcing the new motor vehicle act. With this movement the Automobile Club of Southern California has signified itself as being in sympathy.

Co-operation Needed

As things now stand, it is pointed out, one city may start a drive on illegal headlights and fail in its efforts because the surrounding communities are not making similar enforcements of the law. Other towns fail in their law enforcement because they do not have the co-operation of the entire territory in their work.

It is proposed that under the new system all counties and communities will be able to function on the same thing at the same time. This will eliminate any hit-or-miss attempts to bring law-breakers to time.

As the plan now stands, every county will operate with a committee representing the various communities so that the counties and this general committee will agree upon and indicate the concerted movement of the entire counties in enforcing various sections of the motor vehicle law, such as glaring headlights, obscured license plates, and other infractions.

Will Work Together

An interlocking system will then be worked out between the counties so that every county will be functioning at the same time. Thus, no isolated community will be endeavoring to enforce one section of the motor vehicle law at one time and another at another, and so on.

Cross Town Service by Motor Bus Is Started

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—Crosstown bus service, long the subject of much heated discussion as one aid to the solution of Los Angeles' traffic problem, has at last become a reality.

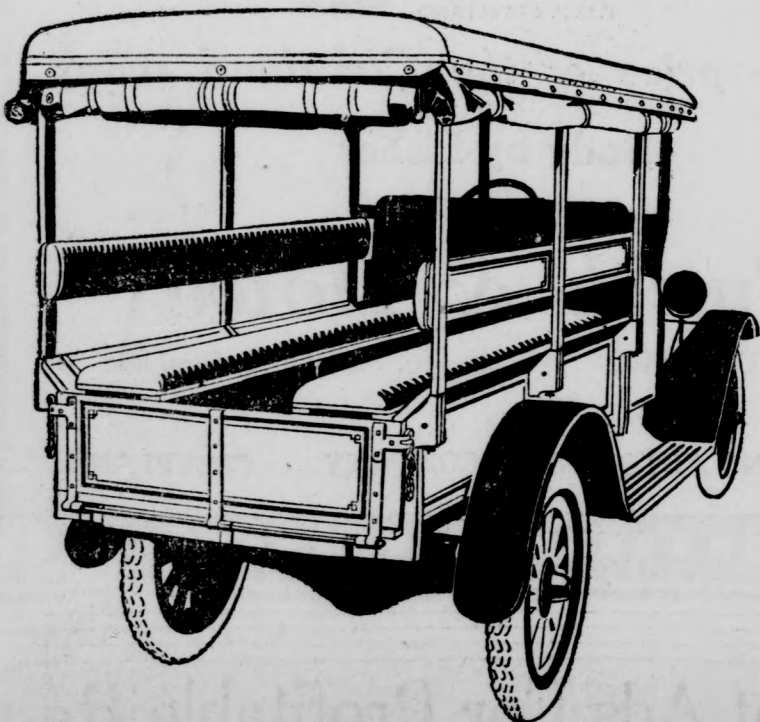

On Saturday last regular crosstown service was inaugurated on Western avenue, between Los Feliz boulevard and Slauson avenue. Prior to the inauguration of this service, eighteen of the busses took part in a monster parade.

These eighteen busses, the first of a large order placed for future delivery, included all of the most advanced type of motor construction, and already fifty of the busses have been ordered from the Moreland Truck Co. of Burbank, ten of which have been delivered. These ten are all Goodyear equipped with 36x6 pneumatics, and have dual tires on the rear.

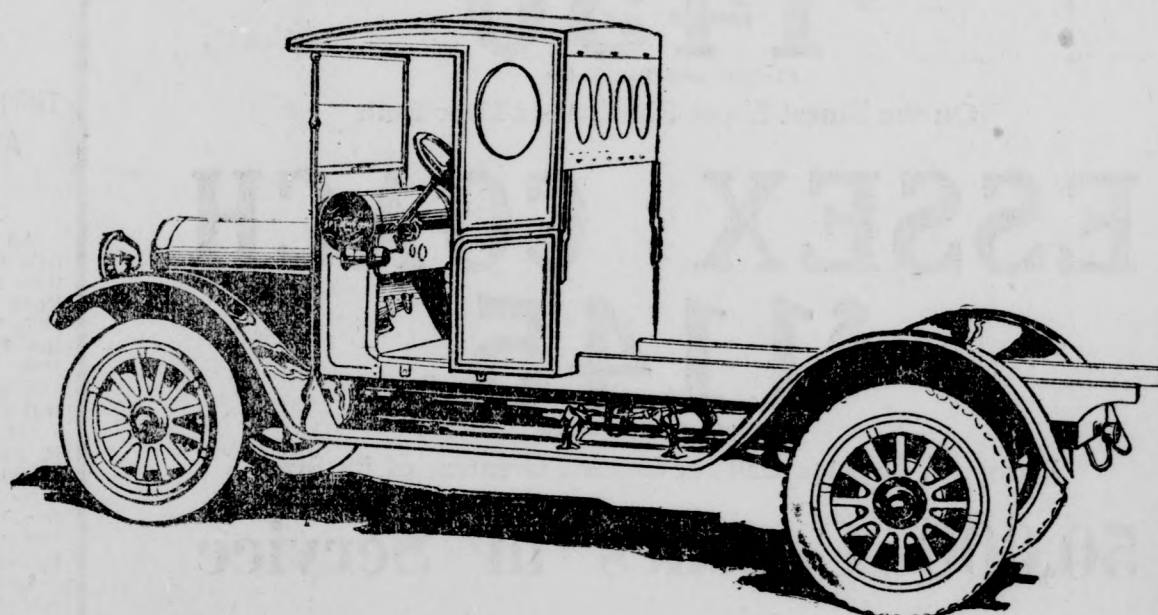

The busses are all commodious and comfortable, each having a seating capacity of twenty-six persons. Transfers will be interchanged between the busses and the red and yellow cars.

asking our aid, that his trouble was in the ignition system. Tools?—oh, yes, he had plenty of tools, he had tools for every purpose except for fixing a car. He finally divulged his secret how he came by such a choice variety of tools—his brother-in-law owned a motorcycle shop and had given them to him, and from the layout before us we didn't doubt his word. His tool box was a perfect picture of the way a well equipped tool box shouldn't look.
Then, too, was the fellow that hailed us with, "Say, old man, I wonder if you have such a thing as a —". He was the proud possessor of a used car purchased the day before he started on the trip. He was in need of a file with which to remove the glaze from the interrupter points and had hauled every car that passed his way with no results. We made the necessary adjustments for him and he was soon on his way.

Need Care in Selection
So it is not always a matter of too few tools when trouble arises, nor is it the case of too many tools. The whole trouble seems to lie in the selection of the proper kind of tool for each individual car. Aside from these special tools there are many little accessories to the tool box that are both important and necessary. A tow rope, extra light bulbs, tire repair outfit, jack, and pump, ignition wrenches, socket wrench set, iron wire tape—many are the additions that prove a life saver when the car gives trouble. Boxes of assorted cotter pins, bolts, nuts, and washers, should be included when the list is made.
The salesman of the Western Auto Supply Company offers many suggestions to the motorist and advises him as to the proper tools he should carry when making his trip.

NEW BRAKES CUT INSURANCE RATE

Buick Agents Are Advised of Reduction Ordered by Automobile Club

Striking endorsement of the efficacy of the four wheel brakes that are a part of all the new Buick models is shown by the action of the department of insurance of the Automobile Club of Southern California, which has notified all Buick dealers, as well as its own bureaus throughout the state, that the insurance rate to owners of the 1924 model Buicks has been cut 15 per cent. The reductions are 10 per cent on collision insurance and 5 per cent on property damage insurance.

This action, coming on the heels of the development of the new Buick valve-in-head engine that delivers, it is claimed, 50 per cent more power than the engines in former models and that permits the 1924 models to attain a speed of from sixty to seventy miles per hour, is regarded by Buick distributors everywhere as a strong testimonial of the efficacy of the four wheel brakes.

The performance of the new motor, declares Ray L. Galvin, sales manager of Tanner & Hall, 237 South Brand boulevard, local agents for the Buick, will be a revelation even to those familiar with past Buick performance. The driver who may never require the speed that it will develop will nevertheless be happy that he has it to command should the emergency arise. The facility with which it "handles," the smoothness with which it idles down to a crawl, its quiet operation—these are all factors that will be appreciated.

HIGH MILEAGE ON 1400 MILE TRIP

Thirty-Two and One-Half Is Average Made by Ford On Trip North

An average of thirty-two and a half miles to the gallon of gasoline is the record made by the Ford car driven by J. Guy Pixley, 207 North Glendale avenue, on the 1400 mile trip that he and Mrs. Pixley have just completed and which took them through central and northern California.
Mr. Pixley has written to Jesse E. Smith, 125 West Colorado, Glendale Ford agent, giving an account of his experiences on the trip, during which he kept a close and accurate record of the performance of his car.

Leaving Glendale early in the morning, Mr. Pixley writes, they reached San Francisco the same night, after thirteen and one-half hours' driving time. After leaving San Francisco they headed through Sacramento north, and on the entire 1400 miles they consumed less than one gallon of oil, which, combined with the extraordinary mileage given by the gasoline, has firmly convinced Mr. Pixley that the Ford car is extremely economical. No trouble developed during the run, nor did the car call for any adjustments. The record made by Mr. Pixley's car, Mr. Smith declares, is not an unusual one, many other Ford owners bearing testimony

BOYS' GRUELLING AUTO TRIP TOLD

Stillman Chase and Waldo Yard Fight Maduro Mud in Maxwell

Colorado maduro mud splattered over his new 1923 Maxwell touring car from the "mud wallows" of Kansas, Stillman Chase pulled up at the curb in front of the family residence at 400 Riverdale drive and began to unload the camping outfit used on his vacation motor trip to Minneapolis and way stations.

Waldo Yard, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Yard of 431 N. Maryland avenue, accompanied him on the trip. He is a student at the U. S. C. dental school. Although the car shows unmistakable signs of having been wept over considerably by Jupiter Pluvius, Stillman is well pleased with the performance of his new car. This was delivered by the Glendale Motor Car company of 204 West Colorado street the latter part of June. It was presented to him by his father, Albert S. Chase, as a graduation present in recognition of his graduation from Glendale Union high school. It will be used next term to provide transportation to and from the University of Southern California.

The itinerary included San Francisco, Seattle, Vancouver, Kingsport and Minneapolis. The return trip was over the Santa Fe trail. Departure was made from Minnesota August 13, which is believed to account for the fact that the trip was by cold bursts a large portion of the way. In places it was necessary for automobiles to play follow-the-leader in order to get through the mud. Young Chase found that his machine had much pep and passed around many that were stalled.

Many cars bearing Pasadena, Hollywood and Los Angeles markers were observed en route. "Everybody you talk to either is going to California right away or hope to go here before they die," remarked young Chase. "It sure is great to be back again."

CHEVROLET SALE TOTALS ADVANCE

Growth of Business Shown 110 Percent Greater Than Same 1922 Period

Chevrolet sales of cars and trucks for the month of June totaled 44,059 units. This is very close to the record for sales in United States and Canada for any one month. It exceeds June, 1922 by 52 per cent, and brings the total for the first six months of 1923 up to the new high figure of 231,329—the greatest total sale for any six months in Chevrolet history, says C. L. Smith, local dealer, Orange and Colorado.

The extent of the growth of the Chevrolet business this year is further indicated by comparing this first six months' business with that of the same period of 1922, when 110,392 units were marketed. This represents an increase this year over the same period of last year of 110 per cent, or more than double last year's sales for the first six months.

Sales in May were somewhat higher than in June, owing to slightly higher production. May sales in United States and Canada totaled 44,375.

May, 1923, was not only the greatest month in 1923, but the greatest month ever in Chevrolet history, sales for that month exceeding the biggest month in 1922—June—by 55 per cent.

PRICE DROP AIDS BATTERY SALES

Motorists Following Values Closely, Says Philco Agent Here

"Following the recent reduction in the price of all Philco batteries there has been an immediate increase in sales. It has shown in a most convincing manner that motorists follow values very closely. When they learned that a well-known standard battery could be purchased for the same price as batteries made especially to sell on a price basis, it left no question at all in their minds, and they flocked into Philco stations," said H. E. Penner, of Penner Brothers, 601 South Brand.

"Many motorists were pleased to learn that Philco batteries could be had with one, one and a half and two year guarantees. Therefore, the motorists who planned on buying a new car in a short while saved money by installing a Philco battery with a one-year guarantee. The motorist who planned on driving his car several years more found that by purchasing a two-year guarantee battery he could save money because the monthly service cost of a two-year battery was less than that of a one-year guarantee battery."

THE STUDEBAKER BIG-SIX SEVEN-PASSENGER TOURING CAR.....$2040

1924 Model Big-Six Again Leads in Intrinsic Value

Important Items of Equipment of the Big-Six Touring Car

Extra disc wheel with tire, tube and tire cover.
Handsome nickel-plated bumpers, front and rear.
Automatic gasoline signal mounted on instrument board.
One-piece, rain-proof windshield.
Automatic windshield cleaner.
Rear-view mirror.
Glare-proof, glass visor.
Walnut steering wheel with new type spoke and throttle control.
Courtesy light, cowl lamps and combination stop- and tail light.
Tonneau lamp with convenient extension cord.
Quick-action cowl ventilator.
Motometer with lock and ornamental radiator cap.
Tool kit in left front door, locked with master key.
Aluminum-bound running boards with corrugated rubber mats and step pads.
Aluminum kick plates.
Grip handles on body rails.
Thief-proof transmission lock.
Saubbers.

Many motorists who have always insisted on the best in everything they buy, have discarded their heavy, bulky, high-priced cars and have replaced them with the Studebaker Big-Six. And they report that, in every way, it represents precisely their conception of what a really fine motor car should be. They are enthusiastic over their all-round satisfaction with the Big-Six because of its dependability, surplus power, extreme comfort for seven passengers, the completeness of its equipment and its fine appearance.

The series 24 model—the finest Big-Six Studebaker ever built—presents a value unapproached by other cars at anywhere near the price. And its nominal cost of operation is a source of continual satisfaction.

Everything for which one can wish in motoring convenience, comfort and utility has been provided—even to an extra disc wheel complete with tire, tube and tire cover; handsome nickel-plated bumpers, front and rear; automatic gasoline signal mounted on instrument board, and many other features.

The low price of the Big-Six is due to large volume, the fact that Studebaker overhead is shared by three models, the manufacture of all vital parts in Studebaker plants and Studebaker's vast physical and financial resources.

After 71 years of service, the name Studebaker enjoys confidence and respect more than ever.

AGENT EXPLAINS BUYERS' DEMANDS

Low Cost of Maintenance Is
One of Factors Assured
By Packard, Claim

Deciding factors in the purchase of an automobile are low cost of maintenance and of operation, according to H. F. Daniel, agent for the Packard car, 510 East Broadway, and the Packard, he claims, meets these requirements in a manner that is in keeping with its pre-eminent standing in the motor world.

First cost, to the man who is buying service with an automobile, is lost sight of when a man purchases a Packard, as he knows, Mr. Daniel claims, that he will be getting service out of his Packard for years, and getting it at a cost that will be surprisingly low. This low operating and maintenance cost, he asserts, is due solely to the calibre of the car originally, as the excellence and honesty with which the car is constructed, down to the last nut and bolt, constitute a guarantee of prolonged life that insures years of steady performance under any and every condition, showing a mileage of from eighteen to twenty miles to the gallon and as much as 20,000 miles to the set of tires.

CHANDLER MOTOR LURE TO BUYERS

Powerful New Engine Offers
Convincing Argument
To Motorists

The reputation of the hill-climbing ability of the new Chandler, with the Pike's Peak motor that has been making good in a number of the severest tests to which any motor has been put, is making more friends and buyers for the cars every day, according to B. J. Smith, of Smith & Howe, local agents, at 116 North Maryland.

"The Chandler and Cleveland are beautiful cars," says Mr. Smith. "In this respect they stand in the front rank of the automobiles of today, but what the buyer wants to know is whether he is going to get service out of his car, whether it is going to make the grade or get stalled on a hill, and whether it is going to keep on giving reliable service, day in and day out, as long as it is in use."

"The Chandler and Cleveland are measuring up to every test they have been asked to meet, and this fact is what is influencing so many buyers to turn to these two makes in greater numbers than ever before."

MOTOR PULLMAN IS REO'S NEW MODEL QUICK RE-SALES ON MAXWELL CAR

Harry E. White Tells About
Comfort to Be Had in Rolling Cottage

The floor and shades and curtains are over the windows. When the beds are made up, they extend from the side of the car as the illustration shows. Draperies inside the car screen them from the living room. The bathroom at the rear of the car is completely equipped with enameled fixtures which include a showerbath. Water is carried under air pressure.

Living room furnishings include a desk, folding table, a wardrobe trunk, and wicker chairs. A wicker chair is used by the driver while the car is on the move. In the kitchen is a built-in gas range, a refrigerator, a kitchen cabinet and an enameled sink for dish washing purposes.

This most complete motor pullman serves as the official car for the annual Michigan Automobile Tour, and in this capacity it is now on the road. Recently a round trip between Battle Creek and Washington, through the Allegheny mountains was made for the purpose of blazing the trail for the 1923 tour.

This car, like all other official cars in the Michigan Automobile Tour, is mounted on a Speed Wagon chassis. The total load is 6,300 pounds, but in spite of this excessive burden, the owner claims his car to be just about perfect mechanically.

FISH LURE AUTO DEALER TO LAKES

C. L. Smith Catches Limit in Snow-Fed Waters of Inyo and Mono

The fishing to be found in the lakes of Inyo and Mono counties was the lure that led C. L. Smith, Chevrolet distributor, Orange and Colorado streets, north during the ten days that he and Mrs. Smith spent on their vacation recently, and everywhere they stopped they caught the limit of trout, many of them in places where other tourists had been dangling their bait on the fishes for weeks with only negligible results.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith, driving a Chevrolet sedan, made Bishop the first day out of Glendale, later going up Bishop Creek to South Lake, at an elevation of 10,000 feet. The grades up to South Lake, over sand and gravel roads, taxed many cars to the limit, but the Chevrolet, he claims, made the stiffest of them with an ease that was surprising.

Lying within three miles of South Lake there are twelve other lakes, many of which they visited and in most of which they caught fish in water that was as cold as ice from the snows that came right down to the water's edge.

Convict Lake and Silver Lake in Mono county were also visited, and Mr. Smith brought back a mess of trout from Silver Lake, making the run from there to Glendale in fourteen hours. During his vacation Mr. Smith, on several occasions ran across Chevrolet cars showing the C. L. Smith sign on the tire covers carried on the rear of the cars.

Thirteen Models 1924 Line
Reveal Refinements
In Popular Cars

The display of the new line of thirteen 1924 Nash models has caused one of the greatest sensations of the year among automobile men and motorists generally, according to officials of the Glendale Nash Sales, 112 South Maryland, who have been swamped with inquiries for demonstrations of the new models ever since they were announced.

While the fundamental principles embodied in the Nash have been maintained by the engineers of the corporation, in view of their sterling performance in the past, many added refinements have been incorporated in each of the new models that make a strong appeal to the discriminat-

Used Car Values Highest of Any Car in Its Class
Agent Declares

"The unusually high re-sale value of the late model Maxwell cars has caused a great deal of comment recently by both new and used-car dealers generally throughout the country, and the Maxwell car stands today in used-car value the highest of any car in its class," said Lyman P. Clark, of the Glendale Motor Car Company, Maxwell and Chandler streets, 124 West Colorado street. "Very few of the late model Maxwells have been advertised for sale; the few that have been advertised have been picked up very quickly, because the public have recognized the service that the Maxwell is giving everywhere, and particularly due to the fact that the present Maxwell organization have adopted the policy of not making any seasonal changes that will depreciate the value of the car in the owners' hands."

"The beauty of the lines of the late model have attracted attention to them at once, and in actual service the Maxwell has proven to be so easy riding, free from vibration and with ample power and speed, together with the wonderful economy on gas, oil and tires, that, every late model Maxwell owner is a booster and is conscientiously recommending the Maxwell to his friends, and where one Maxwell car is sold in the neighborhood it means the sale of a great many more in that locality. This demonstrates the confidence the public have in the new Maxwell car," said Mr. Clark.

ANNOUNCE LOWER BATTERY PRICES

New Merchandising Methods
Permit Slash in Cost
Of Exide Line

A material reduction has been made in the price of all Exide automobile batteries, according to H. M. Parker, of the local Exide Service Station, 113 West Harvard.

"This price reduction," said Mr. Parker, "doesn't in any way imply a reduction in the quality of the Exide battery. On the contrary, it is the same as that which has brought world-wide acceptance of the Exide as a quality product throughout."

"These lower prices have been made through the adoption of certain changes in merchandising methods by the manufacturer, based on the present day requirements of car owners."

"The low prices put the Exide within the reach of any car owner who wants the comfort and satisfaction of driving with the rugged, long-lived Exide battery."

ing motorist who seeks to secure a car that combines beauty of appearance with ability to perform well under any and all conditions.

The eagerness with which prospective buyers and lovers of fine cars crowded the local salesrooms was not confined to Glendale, but every agent in the territory reports enthusiastic visitors who have been loud in their praise of the new line, and some of the severest critics have expressed themselves as enchanted with the new line of Nash automobiles.

SEASONAL SLUMP FAILS TO SCARE

California Auto Sales Are Year Round Business
Figures Reveal

"Seasonal slumps," which are the annual motor trade bugaboos of the East, really have no terrors for California automobile dealers.

In fact, out here in the Golden State, an all the year round sun-kissed land with new settlers constantly pouring in, most of them matter-of-course automobile buyers, "there ain't no such animals" as "summer slow-downs" and winter is the boom business time.

With buyers and sellers away on vacation tours there is, of course, a little let up in summer motor car selling, but so slight as to be hardly worth noticing. It is less than ever this year with June new passenger car sales dropping only 8.4 per cent from the May peak and July buying falling off only 5.5 per cent as compared with June.

Winter Sales Jump

Last year's new passenger car selling peak was reached in June. There was a drop of 8.3 per cent in July. October was the low month of the year, yet its sales were only 11.5 per cent below those of June.

With the coming of the winter tourists, sales jumped to 15,604 in November and 15,409 in December, as compared with 12,563 in October.

There seems every likelihood that 1923 will continue for the rest of the year to show at least its recent 50 per cent gain over last year's business.

Fifteen makes accounted for 91.3 per cent of the 19,549 new passenger car sales made in California in July. Buying of them showed a 62 per cent gain over the corresponding month last year and a loss of only 2.3 per cent as compared with the preceding month of June.

CANADIAN STAGES USING BIG SIXES

S. C. Packer Finds Studebaker Cars Doing Duty Over Mountain Roads

Studebaker Big Sixes are proving their worth on the stage lines of Canada, over some of the hardest roads in that country, according to a letter received this week by the Packer Auto Company, 245 South Brand, Studebaker distributors, from Stephen C. Packer, the head of the firm, who, with his family, is now on an extended trip through the Canadian Rockies and cities of the middle west. Mr. Packer found that the majority of the stages running in the territory that he traversed are Big Sixes, and all of them, he was told, are measuring up splendidly to the demands that are made on them. The roads they are called on to travel, he says, are good, in the main, but after a rain they become exceedingly difficult to negotiate, and schedules are maintained only with difficulty.

Many tourists from the United States, the letter adds, are driving Studebaker Special Sixes, and those with whom he has talked enthusiastically endorse the performance of the car under all conditions.

Mr. Packer and his party have visited Glacier park, Lake Louise and Banff, and were on the point of leaving for Chicago when he wrote. They expect to visit the Studebaker factories at South Bend for a good part of next week.

Government Officials Praise Oregon Roads

United States government officials connected with the department which extends federal aid to road building in various states have just completed a tour of Oregon's highways and express their unqualified satisfaction at the character of roads built in the state.

One hears the same sentiment from eastern tourists who have covered the roads between the Atlantic and the Pacific and from Canada to Mexico.

Not only are the grades, curves, fences and bridges unusually well built, but the asphaltic concrete pavement which predominates is in excellent condition where it has been used and tested under actual road traffic for five years or longer.

It is probable that Oregon taxpayers have had a maximum of value for their dollars spent on every mile of road in the state, and commendation of their road system by people from other sections of the country is most gratifying.

Set New Record for Yosemite Tourists

During the month of July, 1923, all records for travel to Yosemite National park were shattered when a total of 44,278 people visited the park. This compares with 22,265 visitors for July, 1922. Of the total of 44,278 representing travel for July, 1923, 33,260 came in 10,083 private automobiles. This compares with 24,648 people carried in 7,212 private automobiles during July, 1922.

The total travel for the year up to and inclusive to July 31, 1923, was 89,135 as compared with 70,486 to the same date last year, a gain for 1923 of 18,649 people, or 26.4 per cent.

SLASH IN PRICE STIRS INDUSTRY

Willys-Overland Line Will Be Sold Cheaper in Opening Season

TOLEDO, Ohio, Aug. 25.—John N. Willys, president of the Willys-Overland Company, Toledo, Ohio, has caused a furore in automobile circles by his announcement of immediate reductions and great improvements over the 1923 Willys-Overland lines, says George T. Smith, of Smith-Sloan, Inc., 228 South Brand, local dealers.

This action, embracing a drop in price on the Willys-Knight touring car and roadster models from $1,235 to $1,175, F. O. B. factory, and on the Willys-Knight coupe-sedan from $1,595 to $1,550, came as a distinct surprise to the automobile industry and motoring public in view of the advance in price made by not a few manufacturers in announcing their 1924 models.

The new values in Willys-Knight and Overland cars are the direct result of the wonderful sales and production records made by the Willys-Overland Company this year, eclipsing any previous period in its history, which determined the officials of the company to share with the public the appreciable saving in costs made possible by an enormous increase in business.

Mr. Willys added that in every detail all the advantages of the Willys-Knight car have been retained, while improvements have been added, making this car, powered with the famous Willys-Knight sleeve-valve motor, a bigger value than ever before.

This announcement has great significance because it marks a new valuation record for automotive products in the face of a generally rising market in raw materials.

UNEVEN WEAR OF TIRES EXPLAINED

Expert Tells Reasons for Failure of Autos to Perform Correctly

When the front tires wear unevenly or the car doesn't hold the road easily, it is generally the "toe-in" or "camber" that is at fault, according to Lee M. Fitzhugh, well-known Buick, Chevrolet and Star expert, 120 South Maryland avenue.

"Toe-in is the difference between the front and rear of the wheel, measured at the height of the axle," he says, "and is 1-16 to 3-8 of an inch greater at the rear."

"Camber is the difference between the bottom and the top of the wheel and should be 1 to 2 degrees out at the top. Both wheels exactly the same. A check of the cars in one block on Brand boulevard showed that nearly half of the cars inspected were not properly aligned to give tire mileage and easy driving."

"Another point not sufficiently considered by motorists," says Mr. Fitzhugh, "is trueing the rims so that the car doesn't wobble. Every car driver should see that his rims are set true."

Shortsightedness

—Shortsightedness of those persons who buy cheap lumber of which to construct their buildings is very readily apparent after a few years.

—Buying bargain lumber and mill work in order to save a few dollars of first cost has never yet proved satisfactory.

—Bargain lumber does not even give you value received for what you pay, much less any interpretation of the word bargain.

—The lumber, mill work and building materials of every character that we handle we stand squarely behind, and assure you that to serve you is our pleasure.

—Let us help you.

—We are equipped to give you ideas and plans on all manner of homes and REAL SERVICE in every department.

July Slow Down in Production Is Slight

According to estimates based on shipping reports received by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, production of motor vehicles in July was 318,000. Though this is a 14 per cent slow-down from June, a slight seasonal decline, compared with the extraordinarily large records of the previous months, compared with the corresponding month in previous years, July set a new record, gaining 29 per cent over July, 1922.

The weekly trend in production was upward during July, the last two weeks being larger than the first two weeks in the month. Production of motor vehicles for the year ending July 31 totaled 3,525,000. The output of cars and trucks during the first seven months of this year was 2,344,000, showing an increase of 68 per cent over the corresponding period last year.

HELPS RAILROADS

More than 522,000 freight carloads of automobiles, motor trucks and parts (except tires and chains) were shipped last year. This volume of rail business is the third largest among all manufactures. The commodity which headed the list was refined petroleum and its products, calling for 1,110,107 carloads. As the greater part of this fuel is consumed by motor vehicles, it appears that the automobile is the leading industrial customer of the railroads.

SAVES MORE TROUBLE

A broken spring leaf should be replaced immediately. If there is any delay, an extra strain is thrown on the remaining leaves, causing the entire spring to break.

RADIATOR SCALE

Scale in the radiator can be overcome by mixing a little glycerine with the cooling water. The glycerine should be used in proportions of half a pint to each five gallons of water.

The Failure of Jason Brill

Today's Short Story
by
Ad Schuster

Old Jason Brill spread his bulk on a seat in the elevated, opened his paper and saw red. Here in type which screamed, at least to him, was a story of his financial ruin. The financier's huge hands crumpled the paper while his face grew red with suppressed anger. Then slowly the hands relaxed and a crafty smile was born.

"Let 'em think so. It will make it easier to catch them unawares. As if a wallop like this could put me under." His foot was tapping the floor now while he developed new possibilities. The reputation for being broke could serve a good purpose, in business and—yes, at home.

"All this style stuff, Ma being the fine lady, and Ed going to marry a girl who is after his money, this ought to force a show-down. Still, maybe I ought to tell Ma."

The news of the failure of Jason Brill was received as momentous in a number of places. At the door of his home Mrs. Brill, smiling bravely, took him by the arm and led him to the library.

"You don't have to say a word about it," she said, "and you don't have to worry about me. It will be fun, won't it, Jason, starting over again. We never were so happy as when we were trying to make good."

Jason beamed and took her lead. "And Eddie? How's he going to take this? I wonder if that girl will ditch him."

Ed Brill read the story and did some wondering himself. "I'll have to pitch in and help Dad," he said, "and Marjorie will have to wait unless—unless she is willing to marry a poor man." He frowned doubtfully.

In Marjorie Dillon's home a girl tried to close her ears against a storm of complaint. "It is lucky, anyway," her mother concluded, "that this happened before it was too late. You will write him a note tonight. Say anything you wish so long as you break the engagement." Then Marjorie was alone.

Since the hems had been let out in her school dresses Marjorie Dillon had understood that her mission was one of capturing a rich husband. The child had accepted the idea casually and, until her engagement to Ed Brill, had never questioned the ethics. When she found herself really caring for the young man and realized how shallow were her mother's pretenses to wealth, and for what purposes they were made, she winced in shame. But lately she decided to tell Ed of her true situation and to leave it to him. Always there was a tormenting doubt—she wondered just how much she loved Ed for his money.

Now Marjorie smiled through her tears. She loved Ed more than ever and knew that, despite her training, she was not a fortune seeker. Instead of writing a note she telephoned and Ed Brill, wondering and a little frightened, gave up going home to comfort his father to answer her call.

"Ed," said Marjorie, after she had made her confession, "will you marry me today and go with me to your father? I wish to show him that it is I who love."

"Bully! And we will tell him we are standing by. My job will carry us through and it will be a bungalow, with, maybe, Dad and Mother in another nearby."

Jason Brill heard the news of the marriage and the offers of help. Across the heavy face which some men even called savage there moved a wide and blissful smile.

"Listen," he said gently, "I'm going to take a long vacation with just Ma and you kids can look after the house here until you are settled." He held up his hand to silence them. "I have been plugging along making money until I thought that all was there was in life. Then, a little while ago, I opened my eyes. But not far enough. I discovered I wanted something besides money, but I thought I discovered too, that I had tied myself hand and foot. Why, I even thought Ma was touched as I had been."

"You know, they nicked me. That's all. Why, in a week I will be back strong enough to offset that loss. I am a long way from being broke, but it would be worth it to fail just to find out the things I've learned."

A little later, Marjorie's mother sent congratulations.

KIMONO MODES FOR KIDDIES

The rompers pictured to the left are smart, not only because they are in kimono style, but because they are trimmed with embroidery. The side-closing bloomers are gathered to straight bands and buttoned to the waist. Straight bands finish the lower edges of the bloomers, and two kitty-cats companionably appliqued upon the front of the bloomers form the pockets. Medium size requires 2 3/8 yards 27 or 1 1/4 yards 36-inch material.

The dress fastens at the side and is deeply slashed to accommodate a bias facing of self-material. This model is extremely simple and makes a serviceable play-time dress developed in gingham, chambray, percale, sateen or linen. For dress-up wear it is effective in crepes and soft silks. Medium size requires 1 1/4 yards 36-inch material.

First Model—Pictorial Review Dress No. 1518. Sizes, 1 to 5 years. Price, 25 cents.

Second Model—Dress No. 1526. Sizes, 2 to 6 years. Price, 30 cents.

There is a certain form of naivete which always amuses me when I find other people indulging in it. I wonder if I amuse them equally as much.

It is always much harder to see your own mote than the other fellow's beam, so I painfully suspect that others have caught me more times than I catch myself.

The form of naivete to which I refer consists in quoting the opinion of some one who has every reason to give a prejudiced and flattering opinion—as if that opinion were really worth something.

Here are some of the common examples: "An Unusually Good Engine"

"Yes, the man who sold me the car told me he thought we had an unusually good engine."

(Did you ever know anyone who didn't get "an unusually good engine"? I did—just one man. I am thinking of sending his name to the hall of fame.)

"I was thinking of not having Ruth and Emily go to dancing school next year. There are so many expenses and I thought I might let them skip a year, but the dancing teacher told me they were such exceptional pupils, almost the only natural dancers in the class; and he thought it would be a shame not to have them keep right on. He said he would miss them terribly because they set such a good example to the class, so I guess I must let them go."

(Did he offer to abate their tuition? He did not.)

No Uttermost Motive of Course! "Yes, I know lots of people are waiting to build because they think prices are going down. But I don't see any use in waiting, for our builder told me that he knew they would not drop for several years, and being in the business he certainly ought to know if anyone does."

"Yes, I think it has a sweet tone. The salesman told me we were very lucky. We didn't pay as much as you have to for some of the high priced pianos but this particular piano has a better tone than lots of the high priced ones."

"The golf teacher says that I ought not to think of giving up golf. He says everyone gets discouraged at times but that I have a very fine stance and that he thinks I am going to make a natural golf player."

"But," objects someone, "have you no faith in human nature? Don't you believe that any of these things could be said honestly?"

Be Selfish About It Oh, yes, my friend, I know they are sometimes said honestly. Just as well as you know that there sometimes is a very warm day in December, or a very cold day in June, or that there are children who mind the first time they are spoken to, and men who admit they are wrong, and women who can pitch a good baseball.

But, I also know what the chances are. And I know what the listener's reaction is. Credit the pleasant thing if you want to, get all the joy you can out of it, provided you don't make it the basis for important action, as in the case I cited of the builder (and the house) But be selfish about it and keep it to yourself. It's much the safer way.

BEAUTY CHATS

THE GROWTH OF THE NAILS

Your nails are made out of the same substance as your hair. They are a form of horny tissue, and are the same as the scales of fish, the shells of shell fish, birds' feathers or the fur of animals.

The nail grows out of the real skin taking its nourishment from it. It is transparent, showing the pink of the skin beneath. Towards its root is a slightly opaque area, larger with some people than with others, which is usually called the moon.

The nails grow after an odd fashion, faster in summer than in winter, faster if the hands are often in water, more rapidly on the right hand than the left, and more rapidly on the longer fingers than the shorter ones. In any case the nail grows its full length in little more than a hundred days.

Isn't it obvious from this that three months of systematic care can entirely change the character of your nails? Some defects, of course, will go on. If the old nail was full of ridges, for instance, the new nail will have ridges also, but with good care they will not be so prominent. If the shape of the nail has been spoiled by neglect a few months of pushing back the skin will do wonders in beautifying it.

Every woman should have her nails done by a professional manicurist once in a while. She need not go more than once in a few months when she has learned to do her nails herself properly. But whether she goes once a week, or once a year, she should rub the nails every day with a little bit of oil, preferably after they have been washed, and then she should push back the cuticle with the blunt end of an orange-wood stick.

This treatment makes the nails look smooth and feeds the growing nail so it will come in looking young and healthy. Daily polishing with a dry polisher is also excellent, for it stimulates the circulation of the blood.

Robbie:—The advice to "Annie L. S." not to use cocoa butter on the throat was given to her because she had a growth of fine hair which was already noticeable. Most women may use cocoa butter as a nourishing massage for filling out the hollows in the neck, if there is no danger of superfluous hair.

There is nothing in cocoa butter itself to cause hair to grow. The trouble arises only because of soil that becomes imbedded in the pores of the skin where there is much oil; and while this oil is very nourishing it is also heavy and not so easily absorbed, so it is reasonable that any remaining on the exposed places, such as the face or throat, would attract a great deal of soil.

A cream made from any good vegetable oil, such as Expressed English Almond oil or a fine grade of olive oil, will be safe to use as a nourishing massage for the face, including the throat, if there is the slightest tendency to superfluous hair.

Mrs. O. J. H.:—I will be glad to mail you the formula on reduction if you send a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Diet and Health

Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

AS IT MIGHT BE TOLD

The following stories are all riding on the trolley vest, p. m. and they are so good, and emphasize a valuable lesson so much, that I will run them. They appeared in a recent number of The American Medical Journal in the column called "Tonics and Sedatives," edited by Dr. Morris Fishbein, the associate editor of the Journal. As this was unnamed, we can hold him responsible for its cleverness.

The Story A fat street-car conductor said to a passenger who would not pay his fare: "You'll have to do one of three things: pay your fare, get off or fight."

"Well," said the passenger, "you'll have to do one of three things: talk more, eat less or bust!"

As Told By George Ade Wunstupontime there was a Bird who tipped the Beam at almost three Centuries—pounds, not Years. He was the original Gumbo, of whom the Story is Told.

While serving as a Nickel Chaser on the Trolleys he began a Peace Conference with one of the Pushers. Relative to the Non-appearance of the Necessary Where-withal. He refused to Arbitrate. The Hefty Nickel Hound said to the Aforesaid P. P.: "There's one of three things for you in the Catalogue: Produce, Alight, or Scrap."

And the P. P. countered: "That goes for you too, Brother; Pedestrianize, Masticate Fewer, or do a T. N. T."

My Dear Followers: When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose 4 cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 250 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. The people of the columns as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a. s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Hunger Strike Staged By Folsom Prisoners

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 25.—Thirty prisoners at Folsom State Prison are on a hunger strike today as a result of the imprisonment in the dungeon of a fellow prisoner who violated one of the prison rules according to unconfirmed reports from the sheriff's office here. The hunger strikers originally numbered sixty, but half of them were prevailed upon to return to work.

HOLD ALLEGED THIEF

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Aug. 25.—Warren Towne of Sacramento, Calif., is held here today for the police of Sacramento, where he is alleged to have stolen $9000 in cash from the Postal department. Towne was trapped on the bridge between here and Omaha. When arrested he had three children and a small dog with him. Officers found nearly $9000 in currency in the car.

Chicago Pastors Differ on 'Rewriting' Bible

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—The work of Dr. Edgar J. Goodspeed, of the University of Chicago, in "translating" the Bible into colloquial English so every-day folk could understand it, today brought him much condemnation from astonished clergymen and a little praise here and there from some who thought it not a bad idea. "It's the worst bunk I've ever heard of," said the Rev. Dr. William H. Carwood, a Methodist Episcopal pastor. "It's most absurd. Who wants to read about 'policemen' in the Bible?" "You can read that in the newspapers. Why, it's an insult to the people to 'write down' the Bible for them. It's sacrilegious." Others echoed this sentiment.

Demand For Homes In Glendale Grows Acute

CITY SCHOOL BOARD IS $10,000 AHEAD

Saves That Sum Out of Half Million Dollar Building Program This Year

By ARTHUR SHERBORNE
Of The Evening News Staff

THE Board of Education probably will be able to save more than $10,000 out of last spring's bond issue for $500,000, according to the calculation of Richardson D. White, superintendent of the city grammar school system.

Over $431,029 of the bond money has been spent or will be required to pay for contracts. In addition, $53,035 will be required to cover items in the budget for which arrangements have not been made yet. It is estimated that extras will cost approximately $5,000. The total expenditure, therefore, will be about $489,064.

Budget items, which are still to be covered, are as follows:

List of Budget Items
Acacia—Kindergarten building, $200; furniture, $400; piping grounds, $250; total, $850.
Broadway—Sanitary fixtures, $800; furniture, $400; piping grounds, $200; electric fixtures, $200; fences, $250; total, $1,850.
Central—Piping grounds, $250; furniture, $400; total, $650.
Magnolia—Additional real estate, $2,000; flagpole, $150; furniture, $400; piping, $200; total, $2,750.
Colorado—Piping, $150; fences, $75; moving bungalow, $300; total, $525.
Columbus—Additional real estate, $10,000; moving kindergarten bungalow, $200; manual training room, $200; heating plant, $1,700; piping, $250; fences, $400; total, $12,750.
Doran—Furniture, $400; piping, $250; total, $650.
Plan for Cafeteria
Glendale Avenue Intermediate—Cafeteria furniture, $1,000; piping, $250; fences, $200; total, $1,450.
Grand View—Sanitary fixtures, $800; folding chairs, $425; side-walks, etc., $1,000; piping, $250; total, $2,475.
Pacific—Kindergarten addition, $500; manual training room, $200; manual training furniture, $300; sewing room, $200; sewing room furniture, $500; furniture, $400; painting, $685; total, $3,385.
Wilson Avenue Intermediate—Moving bungalows, $800; furniture, $800; total, $1,600.
Cerritos—Estimated total, $24,100.

Miscellaneous Items
Miscellaneous items are as follows: Verdugo Canyon site, $12,600; site in northwest, $34,184; additional furniture, $13,123; miscellaneous expenditures, $286; three bungalows at $1,800, $5,400; lot at Glendale Avenue Intermediate School, $6,000; typewriters, $840; total, $59,833.53.

The total amount of the budget was $506,325. Therefore, the total saving will amount to about $16,360.

BIG FOREST MOVED TO GLENDALE

About Twenty Million Feet of Lumber Used Here in Eight Months

HAVE you gotten your half of a new room yet? Old Man Statistics, who acquired fame because of his investigation into the thrilling fact that enough matches laid end to end would reach from here to there and half way back, has just completed another investigation which is certain to add credit to his renown.

Enough lumber has been delivered within the corporate limits of Glendale since the first of the year to build one-half room for each inhabitant.

About 15,000,000 feet of lumber has been delivered by local lumber yards during the past eight months, according to an estimate made recently by E. F. Heisser, secretary of the Independent Lumber Company. He admitted that other lumber company's having plants outside of the city probably have delivered an additional 5,000,000.

500 Feet Per Person
The population of Glendale is now estimated at 40,000. Dividing this sum into the 20,000,000 feet of lumber utilized so far this year leaves a dividend of 500 feet of lumber per person. Between 5,000 and 6,000 feet of lumber are used in the average five-room bungalow. Therefore, every two persons are entitled to a new room.

About forty flat cars are required to haul a million feet of lumber. At this rate Glendale has used 800 carloads of lumber. Considering twenty cars to the train means forty solid train loads. Of course, considering forty cars to the train means twenty solid train loads. As the average length of a flat car is thirty-six feet, the total length of solid train to bring this lumber to Glendale would be 28,800 feet. This is slightly more than five miles.

Some Supply of Sticks
Moreover, each flat car is capable of transporting approximately about seven truck loads of lumber. Consequently, 13,600 trucks would be necessary to have hauled Glendale's supply of sticks at one time. Considering the length of each truck as twelve feet means that the length of this parade would be 163,200 feet or about thirty miles.

About 85 per cent of the lumber used in this vicinity is Oregon pine. Most of the additional 15 per cent is redwood. The schooners which carry the lumber from the Pacific Northwest are able to bring between 1,500,000 and 2,000,000 feet of lumber a trip. This means that a fleet of ten lumber schooners would be required to take this lumber back to Oregon.

And there is no likelihood that it will be shipped away, because everybody who has used any of it with which to build a home seems contented with its sheltering protection in Glendale.

CENTRAL AVENUE WIDENING, PAVING, LIGHTING, BIG STEP IN MARCH OF CITY'S PROGRESS

WIDENING, paving and lighting of Central avenue, particularly south of Broadway to San Fernando road, is one of the greatest forward steps in the history of the city of Glendale. The City Council's order for this work is of equal importance to the paving of Glendale avenue, the widening and paving of Colorado street, and other boulevard improvements with "the fastest growing city."

Central avenue has been neglected, perhaps, in the course of events, but this delay will work for greater benefit in that a broader conception of the need of Glendale for additional "through traffic" streets becomes more apparent day by day. The same holds true with San Fernando road, Burchett street, Sycamore Canyon road.

High compliments are being paid City Engineer Ben F. Dupuy for his aiding property owners in such projects. May the good work continue!

RHYME-CHIMES RING IN GLENDALE

Maybe It's Charm Of Green Verdugo Hills

THERE is something about those Green Verdugo Hills that sets the rhyme-chimes ringing in the human cranium and sends out a hurry call for the old thesaurus. Quite unblushingly, tourists to Glendale burst into metrical ecstasies.

Sun-baked Kansans, who never turned a couplet, vie with effete New Yorkers in poetizing the glories of "the fastest growing city in America." From eclogues to epics, their output ranges; but by far the most popular mode of versal expression is the quatrain.

Shades of Omar, get thee behind the shrubbery! Listen to this:

"Glendale, California, the place of my adoption,
The place of perfect freedom, where each one does his will,
I've loved you from the time I put ten bucks on an option!
And now I really know you, I love you better still."

Where he hails from he isn't telling anyone, signing himself simply "A Newcomer." But he goes on to say:

"I'm mighty glad I found a place where I can shake Old Winter,
And where Sweet Summer's cool and Old Sol doesn't get too gay,
Where all the Stars are sweet sixteen, just like Miss Mary Minter—
And so I've sent for all my things and here I'm going to stay."

Then, waxing exalted, he "smiles 'is bloomin' lyre" and sings:

"I love the Glendale eve whose sun fills up the sky with glory,
I love the morn when sweet-voiced birds the air with music fill—
There seems to be no ending to this many-chaptered story,
As each day seems to bring to me some new and pleasant thrill."

HORTICULTURE IS GREAT INDUSTRY
The horticultural industry of California at present is greater in dollars and cents than the gold mining industry of the state, according to a statement issued by Norman H. Sloane, manager of the California Development Association, dealing with the Fall flower show scheduled for October 23 to 28, inclusive, at the San Francisco exposition auditorium.

"Though horticulture in California has always held the interest of hundreds of men and women, it was not until the horticultural act was passed by congress in 1912 that horticulture as an industry received its real start," stated Mr. Sloane.

"Since that time, the files of our research and information department show, it has grown so rapidly that at the present time it is one of the leading industries of the state. The business of 1922 amounted to $15,000,000. This includes the nursery products of ornamentals, fruits and cut flowers.

"Seven million rose bushes were shipped from California last year. One eastern firm contracted for 700,000. California leads the world in rose production.

"Among the exotics that are fast becoming oriented are boxwoods, camellias and kentia palms. One nursery in southern California has produced and sold 800,000 kentia palms in the last five years.

"The Fall flower show at the auditorium will demonstrate California's world lead in this industry."

COUNTY VALUATIONS
The assessed valuation of property in Los Angeles county increased $414,415,027 in the past year, the 1923 figure given out by County Assessor Hopkins being $1,987,833,194, as contrasted with $1,573,418,167 for 1922. These figures do not include the scores of millions of dollars' worth of county property exempt from tax by reason of being owned by the United States, the state of California, various municipalities,

L. A. MAN WINNER
Lee Rombotis, of Los Angeles, a graduate of the architectural department of the University of Pennsylvania, has been awarded the Paris prize of the Society of Beaux Arts, which entitles him to $3000 and two and one-half years' study in the Ecole des Beaux Arts, Paris, the problem in the final competition being the designing of an office and reception room for the president of the United States.

MORE PROSPERITY
For July, 1923, thirty-nine Southern California cities, including Los Angeles, report building permits totaling $23,332,146, as compared with $14,096,092 for July, 1922, a gain of over forty per cent, while the thirty-eight cities outside of Los Angeles report for July, 1923, a total of $8,743,937, as compared with $6,032,074 for July, 1922.

REALTY MEN MUST SHOW LICENSES

Provisions of New Law Will Be Rigidly Enforced, Says Commissioner

DECLARING that the new real estate law, now effective, would be enforced to the letter, as to maintaining of signs in front of places of business, whether the office be in the office building, hotel, apartment house or private home, State Real Estate Commissioner Edwin T. Keiser added that every broker would be required to maintain the sign, "Licensed Real Estate Broker," in a conspicuous place.

Plans of the California Real Estate association for the bonding of its members have been submitted to the state real estate commissioner and met with his approval.

All brokers on and after January 1, 1924, will be required to file a good and sufficient bond for $2000 with the state. The state association is arranging for a satisfactory bond for all its members, and at a cost that will again emphasize the benefits to members of the service rendered by a statewide association.

Rigid Questionnaire
New broker applicants since August 17, 1923, have had to answer a rigid questionnaire in their own handwriting and of their own knowledge, and to swear to the same, filing it with the commissioner for his approval. If the questions are answered satisfactorily and the bond has been approved, the real estate commissioner grants the applicant a broker's license.

"To all holders of real estate broker licenses prior to August 17," Commissioner Keiser declared in a statement given to the press, "I shall probably send the questionnaire some time around the first of October. They will be notified that if they wish to renew their license after the following January 1, they must answer the questions in the questionnaire and swear to the same."

Experience to Count
"In regard to old established realty offices, or rather to brokers of known experience, judgment, probity and high standing, the fact that they have been regularly engaged in the real estate business will have considerable weight in the determining of their new applications. Those failing in the questionnaire will be called upon to appear for examination, arranged with licensed broker's aid."

"Then, just before the close of the present year, the brokers desiring to take out the new license will as usual file their applications, accompanied by the surety bond for the sum of $2000. The co-operation of the state and local associations in the enforcement of the new real estate license amendments is earnestly solicited by this department.

"Therefore, I earnestly call upon the brokers to live up to the spirit of the law which they themselves were so active in securing and amending during the past four years.

In regard to fraudulent land promotions and fake advertising schemes, the new law provides against such procedure, and the department hopes to eliminate entirely land swindling. The bunko agent should entirely disappear if our laws are properly enforced, and let upon the realty men and women of California to lend to this office, with its jurisdiction over some 45,000 agents, the whole-hearted co-operation and support that will insure the protection to the public that we are working for so earnestly.

Commissioner Keiser said that during the final week before the new questionnaire and bond went into effect, there was a big increase in the number of applications for real estate license.

While the state association is preparing to furnish the bond for its members, and also for other brokers who may qualify for membership, the association is also prepared to furnish to all brokers and salesmen information in book form relating to the real estate laws, and the conduct of the real estate business.

Youngster Buys Lot With Money From Paper Route

CHILDREN are now "bucking" the real estate game, it is so good in Glendale vicinity.

Mrs. Fred Anderson, wife of a Montrose realtor, was astounded the other day when a thirteen-year old boy walked into the office and made a deposit on Lot 63, Honolulu Acres.

And he has a duly executed contract on which he is paying monthly installments from his earnings as a carrier boy for The Glendale Evening News, in the La Cienega vicinity.

Better yet, Stuart Tenney, Baron, for that is his name, has induced his playmates to invest in vacant property.

"See it grow in value," he says.

MANY BUILDINGS NEEDED TO HOUSE HUNDREDS OF NEWCOMERS TO THIS CITY

Unprecedented Growth Predicted As Rush Of Tourists and Homeseekers Starts for Sunny Southland

By H. THOMPSON RICH
Of The Evening News Staff

MORE tourists will come to Glendale in the approaching fall and winter than ever before in the history of the city. This statement represents the consensus of realty opinion. Of the 150 realty firms here, a large number were interviewed. Practically without exception, they told of an increased demand in the local market for every class of property.

Although lots still hold first place in the market, new houses are selling briskly, so briskly, in fact, that they are being snapped up before completed. Even old houses are moving fast, though it is natural that this class of property should not be quite so active.

Realty men agree that the greatest need in Glendale at the present time is building, more building and still more building. Despite the tremendous construction program of the past year, that, according to recent assessment figures, added $8,000,000 to the wealth of this city, there is still a great under-supply of homes and apartments.

With the opening of the schools now not far off, there has been a brisk search for living quarters, particularly four and five-room houses and three-room apartments. The school rush, however, according to realty men, is a barometer only, as when the real fall tourist rush starts, this preliminary raid on living quarters will be lost in the mad scramble that will then ensue.

Starts with Rush
The real estate market, in other words, starting weak in January and February of 1923, took a spurt in the spring months, a slight recession during June and July—and is now off in a cloud of dust.

What thinking Glendaleans want to know is: "Are enough homes being built to care for the coming rush?" And 150 local agents, well aware of conditions in the market, answer solidly—"No."

C. D. Thom, president of the Glendale Realty board, writes from "Somewhere in the Northwest," where he is on his vacation, to say that all along the line, people are getting ready to come to Southern California. "I expect the biggest rush to Glendale this fall and winter that has ever been known," he says. "And (Continued on Page 2)

GLENDALE IN NEW AUGUST RECORD

Los Angeles Also Sets Pace For Construction in Dullest Month

$393,484 for August, 1922.

With another week left in this month, it is believed that August will pass the $800,000 mark. In this case, it will exceed the total of $374,850 for last July and $393,484 for last August combined.

The entire total for last year of $6,305,971 has been exceeded by $119,153. The total for the year, to date, this morning amounted to $6,425,124. This exceeds the total for 1921 of $5,099,201 by $1,324,923.

Ten Times 1919 Total
This year's total already is over twice the total of $3,136,664 for 1920 and more than ten times the total of $587,015 for 1919.

The ten-million dollar mark is almost certain to be reached this year, according to H. C. Vandenberg.

San Francisco Board Third Largest in U. S.

According to statistics compiled by Leslie E. Burks, secretary manager of the San Francisco Real Estate board, the San Francisco board, from the standpoint of membership, ranks third in the United States. The recent membership campaign conducted by local realtors was largely responsible for giving the San Francisco board this commanding position among the organizations represented in the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

water, superintendent of the building department.

Los Angeles Third in Report of U. S. Cities

The continued prosperity of Los Angeles is reflected in the July, 1923, record for building throughout the nation. The southwest metropolis is shown to rank third, with a total of $15,083,273, an increase of more than $7,000,000 over building for July, 1922.

Statistics made public today by the Los Angeles building inspector's office revealed that August will be the second greatest, if not actually the greatest, construction month in the history of the city.

With the valuation of building permits issued since August 1 rapidly approaching $20,000,000, there is a possibility, it was asserted, that last March, with its record-breaking total of $21,196,087, may be exceeded, despite the fact that August is supposed to be an "off month."

NEED NEW HOMES FOR NEWCOMERS

Big Growth Predicted as Tourist Rush Starts for Southern California

they are going to be buyers, too!"

While, according to the salesmen in his office, the Glendale Realty company, 131 1/2 South Brand boulevard, more sales have been registered the last thirty days than during any similar period in the history of the firm.

Lon Haddock, of the Haddock-Nibley company, developers of the great Rossmore project in the northeast section, looks for a Glendale of 150,000 population by 1930 and is preparing to offer sites for 4000 of that great army.

"This fall will be the greatest tourist season to date," he says, "and we will say the same thing of 1924 and of 1925 and every succeeding year. This city is destined to grow great because of its location. It is the natural capital of the empire of the San Fernando valley."

Develop Foothills
According to Charles B. Guthrie, whose offices are located at 110 West Broadway, it is particularly the foothills of Glendale that are underdeveloped. "People coming here ride out along Kenneth road and that section, become thrilled with the magnificent location and would buy on sight, were there enough houses being built there," he says. "And as far as erection of apartment houses goes, if anyone thinks there are enough already, let him go out and try to rent a desirable close-in apartment or bungalow unit in a court. For this type of construction, there is no street in Glendale that offers the advantages of Central avenue, leading as it does from the gateway to the foothills, parallel with Brand boulevard and just one block west."

L. H. Wilson, the guiding genius of South San Fernando road, likewise predicts a great forthcoming tourist rush. "And," says he, with a twinkle in his eyes, "most of them will come in through our end of town! If Glendale grows as San Fernando road has grown, Long Beach had better watch its step, that's all."

N. L. Dutton, of Dutton the Home Fynder, 308 South Brand boulevard, reports 683 prospects for future Glendaleans in the first twenty days of August. A total of 189 families settled in Glendale during July, he states, which, at an average of five persons to the family, would mean that 945 people were added to the population during one month, and that a month supposed to be one of the dullest in the year.

"We know, personally, of over 100 people on our lists," he says, "who absolutely will settle in Glendale within the next sixty days. From the information in our offices, I would say that there is not one-third of the building under way that is going to be necessary to accommodate this army of newcomers. When the present fall and winter season is over, and the dust clears away, Glendale will be seen to have reached the 50,000 mark."

A. R. Johnson, president of the Suburban Realty company, 508 South Brand boulevard, reports that, as the fall season approaches, conditions in the subdivision end of his business are very normal, with every indication of a brisk six-month period, starting September 1. "In houses, the greatest present demand is for 5 and 7-room houses for permanent residents," he says, "and for medium-sized apartments to care for the floating population."

Renters Pencilful
E. P. Hayward of Hayward & McCartney, 142 South Brand boulevard, reports that from their inquiries during the past thirty days, it is evident there is an unusual period of activity coming. "A sure indication that a big rush is imminent," he states, "is to be found in the early, strong demand we have for rental properties. And we have gone over the available places and must admit there are by no means enough to supply the present demand, let alone the cry for quarters that will begin to be heard in another month. I am afraid that if we do not open the throttle of our building activities a little wider, we are going to lose many potential residents in the coming months, who will be forced to turn elsewhere for quarters."

Many other prominent Glendale realty firms were interviewed, all of whom report approximately the same situation—increased demand for practically every class of property, with housing conditions cramped and the shortage threatening to become acute. That this supply cannot keep pace with the sur-

PERPETUAL CARE FOR GRANDE VISTA

Residential Tract Unusually Attractive to Higher Class Homebuilders

Grande Vista still offers the seeker after the best in foothill property a few magnificent lots at attractive prices, reports H. N. Landon, 213 West Broadway, owner and developer of this beautiful tract, which lies just west of "Miradero," L. C. Brand's famous castle estate.

"Lots running all the way from 60 by 160 feet to villa sites are available at the original prices," Mr. Landon states, "while our prices of from $1750 up indicate to anyone who knows Glendale that here is the place to buy for profit, or to locate a home where prices are bound to mount steadily for many years."

"For one who wishes to establish himself and his family in a beautiful, artistic home, particularly where every surrounding prising demand is something of which to be proud, but careful, is the consensus of opinion."

With the $6,346,624 building total of 1922 already exceeded, with the best building months of the year ahead, and with a demand for construction that is little short of a desperate need, that the total for 1923 should reach $12,000,000 is admitted by all who understand the situation.

tends to develop all the better things of life, Grande Vista offers a singular opportunity.

Beauty Preserved
"For instance, consider one of the many special features we are developing here, for the high type of property owners we are gathering—an ornamental parkway running through the tract, laid out in beautiful trees and shrubs with arrangements made for perpetual care, through the creation of a special fund."

"Other improvements at Grande Vista, fully paid for, include gas, water, electricity, curbs, sidewalks, winding streets and street lights, while building restrictions run from $7500 to $15,000."

Mr. Landon wants the public of Glendale to know that in offering Grande Vista, he believes he is giving the best values he has ever been able to pass on since he has been in business.

The tract is approached by driving north on Central avenue to Kenneth road, out to Grand view avenue and north to Mountain street, where the property is located.

This Is What You Have Been Looking For

WHY PAY RENT?

Edgemont Park is being developed by successful subdividers. When we put on Fairview two years ago, we sold lots at opening prices as low as $500 and $600. These same lots are now worth $1000 and $1200.

For years Edgemont Park was the pride of its owner, Mr. C. W. Anderson. Its pure-bred cattle won blue ribbons from coast to coast, and Edgemont stock was known all over the country. But Edgemont Farm was at the City's gates. In a few years the edge of the "solid city" will stretch far beyond Edgemont Park.

$600 and $700 lots will then be worth $1500 to $2000.

Come out today. See the green alfalfa, the refreshing shade of the walnut trees, gaze at the nearby mountains, consider the nearness to school, the accessibility, and you will realize the inevitable increase in value, and the desirability of Edgemont Park for a home, which we make available to every one for $100 down.

POSTMASTER TO GIVE AWAY FORD

Marvin Smith, Sales Manager, Arranges Big Event Sunday Afternoon

Promptly at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, Sunday, August 26, a new Ford touring car will be presented by D. Ripley Jackson, Glendale's popular postmaster, to some fortunate person at the Country Club Highlands tract on Pico boulevard.

This is the first of five Ford touring cars that will be given away absolutely free, in connection with the sale of lots on this slightly money-making tract, according to Marvin Smith, sales manager for A. G. Smith of Glendale and Senator Benjamin C. Sheldon of Hollywood, owners and subdividers of Country Club Highlands, so named because of its proximity to three of the best clubs in Southern California—the Hillcrest Country club, the Rancho Golf club and the California Country club.

How to Get There
The tract is reached from Glendale by going over the Los Feliz road to Vermont avenue, and thence straight down to Pico boulevard, then west to Country Club Highlands, which lies midway between Los Angeles and Santa Monica, at the highest point of Pico boulevard, just beyond the new Fox studio site.

Marvin Smith urges all Glendaleans to see the local agents about the free Ford—E. G. Warren, 300 1/2 South Brand boulevard, and Kausen & Brown, 218 West Broadway.

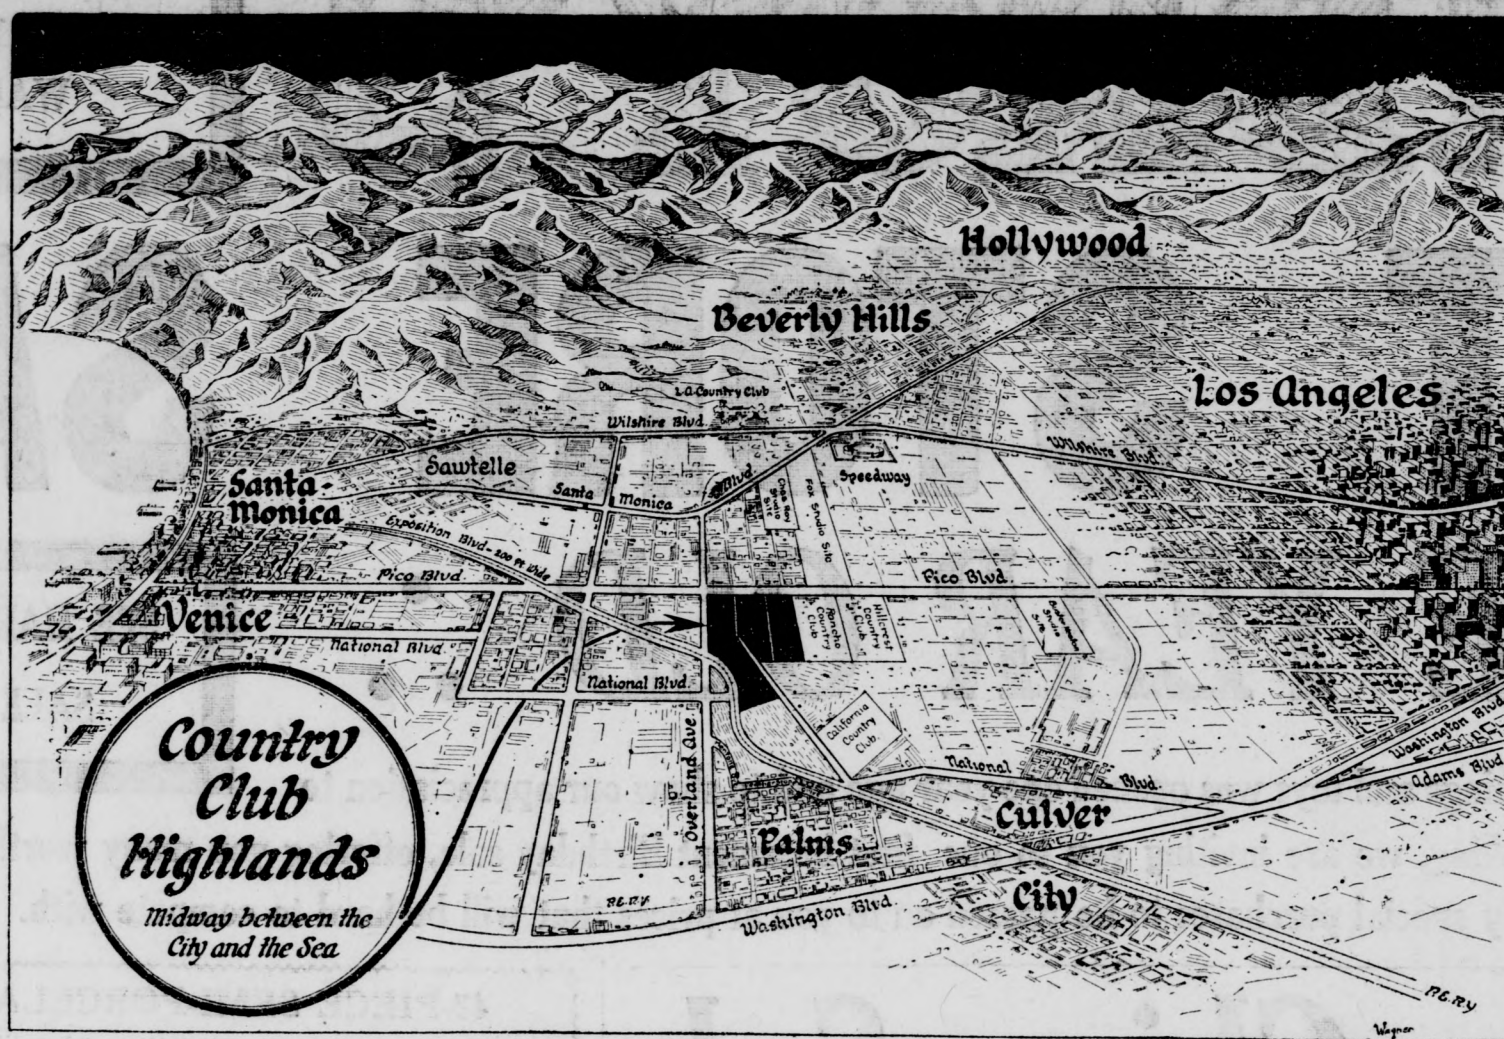

Sales of lots in Country Club Highlands totaling $100,000 are reported by Mr. Smith for the past week, with every indication that this great tract will be sold out in record time, as was the Wing Orange Grove tract, on East Colorado street, Glendale.

"The terms we are offering at Country Club Highlands are knockouts," says Mr. Smith. "There are many desirable lots as low as $750, and our terms are fifteen per cent down, and the balance spread over a period of five years, while we are selling Pico boulevard frontage for under $100 a front foot. Gas, water, electricity and street grading are included in these prices, with minimum building restrictions on residence property of $3500 per lot.

"Many Glendale residents have bought property at Country Club Highlands, among them G. H. Wende, E. G. Warren, George E. Farmer, Charles Kausen, E. E. Brown, Thomas J. Fambrough and George H. Marsh.

"Pico boulevard is due for the most sensational development of any thoroughfare in Southern California," he concluded.

Glendale Buyers Invest In Country Club Highlands

TOP picture is artist's sketch of Country Club Highlands, on Pico boulevard, showing the relation of the tract to Los Angeles, Hollywood, Beverly Hills, Culver City, Venice, Santa Monica and other sections. Below are five Ford touring cars to be given away free by A. G. Smith of Glendale and Senator Benjamin C. Sheldon of Hollywood, owners and subdividers of Country Club Highlands. At right is D. Ripley Jackson, Glendale postmaster, who at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, will present to the fortunate person holding the lucky number, the first of the five free Fords.

Phenomenal Sales Reported In Edgemont Park And All Other Hamlin-Hepburn Tracts

THE sale of lots in Edgemont Park, Burbank, has been phenomenal, reports E. D. Hamlin, of Hamlin & Hepburn, 203 West Broadway, subdividers of this famous piece of property, known all over Southern California and the middle-west as the Anderson ranch and Edgemont dairy.

"In the past week we have made thirty sales," says Mr. Hamlin, "while a number of buyers have availed themselves of our special offer of $199 for the rough lumber, complete, for the building of an attractive 14x20-foot house."

"Edgemont Park has good reason for being the most popular tract we have ever put on. It is located midway between the centers of Hollywood, Burbank and Lankershim, adjoining the magnificent Abraham Lincoln school. Here a new city will develop, by reason of the fact that the site is but five minutes distant from both Burbank and Lankershim, and only ten minutes distant from Hollywood, served by the new bus line that went into effect August 18, the day the tract opened."

Many Through Streets
"Running diagonally through the property is a ninety-foot highway, to be known as Edgemont boulevard, which when completed will make a connecting link between Riverside drive, Los Angeles, and Magnolia avenue, Lankershim. And two other main streets, each sixty feet wide, to be known as California and Florence avenues, are being put in, with ten feet added to Olive avenue."

which intersects the tract, making this latter an eighty-foot thoroughfare.

"We have started on the water lines and will begin establishing grades the first of the week. Curbs and sidewalks will go in, starting Wednesday, August 29. Everything is being pushed forward at Edgemont Park as rapidly as is consistent with good workmanship. That is our policy, always has been and will continue to be."

"Prices of lots in this tract run from $550 up, terms $50 down and $15 per month. Through the Edgemont Lumber Company, which we have organized, with offices at 1622 North San Fernando road, we can offer for $199, on terms of $50 down and $25 per month, all lumber necessary for the building of the 14x20-foot temporary homes mentioned above. Thus for $100 down and a total of $40 per month we have worked out a means whereby one can at once own a home."

Can Arrange Loans
"Later, when payments on the lumber have been completed and payments on the lot materially reduced, a loan can be arranged sufficient to build a permanent home on the front of the lot, whereupon the rear bungalow can be rented for approximately enough to make the payments."

Edgemont Park, Burbank, is reached by going out Olive avenue, which leads directly into it. Mr. Hamlin reports that over half the lots in both unit 14 of Fairview and in Castle Heights are sold. Fairview is located in Burbank, close to the new Providence school and only one block from the Moreland factory. Castle Heights is in the foothill section of Glendale, on Mountain avenue, near "Miradero," the castle estate of L. C. Brand, a prominent landmark.

Payment of Sales Tax Is Due Next Friday

Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodsell yesterday issued warning to thousands of sales taxpayers in southern California that their returns and payments of tax for July must be in his office or in the hands of his deputies in branch offices on or before August 31 to avoid penalties of 25 per cent and 5 per cent, and a specific penalty of $1000.

BURBANK START BUILDING IN THIRTY DAYS

Size of New Structure Will Depend on Demand for Space on Leases

What may be the largest building in Burbank will shortly rise on the lot owned by M. Spazier and T. B. Young at the corner of San Fernando boulevard and Verdugo avenue. The lot is at the present time being prepared for the structure, which, it is understood, will make its first signs of appearance in about thirty days.

Just how high this building will rise cannot be definitely stated at this time, depending somewhat upon the number of applicants for leases, as the builders are determined to erect no bigger a structure than the people of Burbank can use at the present time.

The building will occupy practically all of the 50 feet on the boulevard by 154 feet on the avenue. The ground floor will be given over to stores and the upper floors to offices.

M. Spazier is a veteran builder and can be depended upon to give Burbank a structure that will adorn its sky line and be a credit to San Fernando boulevard.

West Burbank Busy
The vicinity of the china factory continues to grow apace. Grading is well under way on Grismer avenue and will be followed by paving, curbing, sidewalks and gutters, making this one of the best streets in the city. Lumber yards, restaurants, oil stations and other businesses in the section all report activity. There is even activity at the plant of the Aluminum Products company, where the receivers are busy checking over the affairs of this bankrupt firm.

The Valhalla Memorial Park company, which is opening the new cemetery about a mile west of the china factory, is losing no time in developing the burial grounds, now that permission has been given them by the city to go ahead.

Ask anyone in West Burbank what the future of this section is and he will say "Rosy" or some such term.

Epworth Rally
Epworth Leaguers of Burbank will assemble at the Burbank Methodist church at 5:45 o'clock Sunday afternoon, August 26, when they will proceed by motor to Chatsworth to join the San Fernando sub-district rally of the society.

The Burbank Leaguers are to furnish music for the occasion.

WILSON & BURTON MAKE STRONG FIRM

Launch Realty Business on Big Scale Here, in Hollywood and Elsewhere

Under the firm name of Wilson & Burton, realtors, L. H. Wilson of 1034 South San Fernando road and W. T. Burton of 200 1/2 West Broadway have opened offices at San Fernando road and Central avenue, Glendale, and at 6508 1/2 Hollywood boulevard, Hollywood.

The firm contemplates opening additional offices in the near future, one in Los Angeles and possibly one in Pasadena, according to Mr. Wilson, the idea being a complete realty service for this section of Southern California.

The Hollywood office, under the management of A. D. Hadley, has sold $91,000 worth of real estate in the past thirty days, reports Mr. Burton, of which $60,000 has been Glendale property. Their large sign, "Invest in Glendale," is considered by the two partners in the new firm as a real advertising boost for this city, calling the attention of many Hollywood investors to "the fastest growing city in America."

Business Is Good
Mr. Hadley, formerly a classified advertising man on a Los Angeles paper, has made $1,750 in commissions during the past six weeks, with Wilson & Burton, realtors, he states.

The Glendale office of the firm, located in the Flatiron building at San Fernando and Central avenue, will open today, under the management of William Gunderson. Both Mr. Wilson and Mr. Burton will maintain their former offices, apart from the partnership arrangement, as each have highly specialized interests of their own.

L. H. Wilson has for over two years been known as "the guiding genius of San Fernando road," while for a similar length of time W. T. Burton has conducted highly successful operations on South Brand boulevard and East Colorado street, stating that in future his slogan will be "Nothing but business and income properties."

Give Out Statements
Commenting on his activities along San Fernando road, Mr. Wilson states:

"I have built in the last ten months $71,000 worth of buildings on San Fernando road and have purchased there over $200,000 worth of real estate. I have rented all my buildings before they were completed. I am now entering upon a new building program on San Fernando road, involving $50,000 worth of additional construction."

Mr. Burton makes the following statement regarding his operations:

"In the past eight months I have sold $300,000 worth of lots on South Brand boulevard. One lot alone I sold five times during that period, making each buyer a profit. At the northwest corner of Park and Central avenues I have just completed a Spanish stucco building of twelve apartments."

As a firm, Wilson & Burton, realtors, issue the following joint statement:

"The Wilson-Burton service combines both experience and efficiency and is backed by a reputation for integrity built up through years of fair dealing."

SOUND BUSINESS PRINCIPLES USED

Adventist Institutions Are Well Managed, Report Financial Firms

The efficient management of the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, as well as that of the twenty-four similar institutions of a like nature maintained and operated by the Seventh-day Adventists in the United States, and also of the others that they conduct in foreign countries, is shown by a statement made recently by one of the chief financial executives of the denomination to the effect that an unfavorable report has never yet been made by any commercial or financial agency on the standing of a single one of these institutions, either here or abroad.

These hospitals and sanitariums, while operating as individual units and conducting their affairs according to the judgment of their immediate boards of control, are all directly supervised by the executive board of the Seventh-day Adventists, and are run along business lines in every detail.

The continued success of these institutions, it is claimed, is directly due to the handling of their affairs by men trained in the work, as much as to the fact that modern healing methods are in vogue in every one of them in the United States and in foreign countries.

The soundness of the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, as a part of this world-wide system, has attracted to it, as a business investment, many of the far-seeing business men of this city who seek sound securities.
